Van Doren Ducks TV Quiz Subpoena

House Group Halts Inquiry Until Nov. 2

Chairman Expects Big "21" Winner To Testify Then

WASHINGTON (AP)—Charles Van Doren, big money winner on a television quiz show, was accused by the chairman of a House investigating committee Monday of dodging an opportunity to say in person whether the show was rigged.

Announcing that a subpoena has been issued to require Van Doren's testimony, Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark.) declared:

"Mr. Van Doren has purposely avoided service."

Harris also said the committee will stand in recess until Nov. 2, when "we expect him here."

Van Doren sprang to nationwide fame by winning $129,000 on the now-defunct program "Twenty-One" in 1956-57. Other contestants on the show, notably Herbert Stempel who won $49,500, have said they were given answers in advance, and told when to lose.

Stempel did not say Van Doren was coached, however, and Van Doren telegraphed the investigating committee a request that his denial of trickery be entered into its record.

Subpoena Not Served

Van Doren made his long distance request last Wednesday, from his home in New York.

Harris disclosed Monday that the committee sent Van Doren a new invitation on Thursday to testify in person, but has heard nothing from him.

Then, on Friday, a subpoena was issued ordering Van Doren to appear Monday, but it was not served.

"This contestant," Harris told newsmen, "seems to have challenged the committee and the facts which have been developed."

"The undisputed and admitted facts," the chairman said, demonstrate that more than half the "Twenty-One" shows "were rigged and fixed." This is a showing, Harris said, that requires Van Doren, as a big money winner on the program, to tell his story.

Suspended By NBC

Van Doren was an English instructor at Columbia University when "Twenty-One" made him famous. He is still an instructor there, but one of the results of his TV fame was a $50,000-a-year job with the National Broadcasting Co. as a commentator and specialist in education.

NBC suspended him from his job last week, pending the outcome of the congressional investigation.

Monday, Columbia University said that at his request it has given Van Doren a week's leave from his instructing job. He had not shown up for a scheduled class last Friday and was absent again Monday.

Khrushchev Reportedly Urges Mao Free Five

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev Monday night was reported to have raised with Mao Tse-tung the possibility of releasing five American captives of Red China.

Secret diplomatic information from Peking indicated the Soviet Premier also urged Mao privately to do everything else he can to aid the process of East-West reconciliation.

The outcome of Khrushchev's representations concerning the jailed Americans is not yet known. Prisoners include missionaries and fliers convicted of spy charges.

Khrushchev promised President Eisenhower in Washington last month he would take up their cases with the Chinese as a friendly gesture but stressed he could not tell the Chinese to release them.

Eisenhower Meets "Dzimbo"

President Eisenhower touched the head of "Dzimbo," a 440-pound elephant, on the White House grounds yesterday. The French Community of African Republics sent Dzimbo to Washington as a gift for the President. A zoo attendant holds a carrot the 14-month-old animal refused to eat. ### Finn Deserter Hides Out 38 Years In Barn HELSINKI, Finland (AP)—After 38 years in almost complete isolation in a hayloft, a military deserter has returned to a normal life.

Vaino Johannes Kilpinen ran away from his cavalry unit on April 18, 1921, because he was afraid of horses. Since that time, he had been hiding in a barn at this family home in Renko, southwest Finland.

Only his family, who gave him food, knew about his existence.

This was the story, as pieced together by police who found him Saturday: Kilpinen returned to his parents from his regiment, running through the deep Finnish forests. Father and mother reproached the runaway recruit but hid him in the hayloft.

In 1930, church registers listed him as disappeared.

His country fought two wars while he was sitting in that barn and he followed them through the newspapers. Through a peephole, he watched the preparations for his mother's funeral and his father's.

Kilpinen spent his time making brooms and other simple things for the farm kitchen. He never was outside the group of farm houses and never met unfamiliar people. At 58, he had never seen an automobile or a radio set.

Police got hints last week that Kilpinen was alive. They searched the farm and found a thoroughly frightened man.

He became calmer when assured that no legal action would be taken against him. His crime was proscribed years ago and his voluntary imprisonment has lasted for a much longer time than any court could have jailed him.

London Jewel Thieves Vanish With Record Haul

LONDON (AP)—A daring gang of burglars made a grand tour of four fashionable jewelry stores during the weekend and vanished with a record haul of gems. Scotland Yard searched London's underworld for clues.

Detectives and store officials said at least half a million dollars worth of jewelry was stolen and that the total may reach 1½ million.

Police theorized it was an inside job. The burglars worked systematically through all four shops of the Goldsmiths & Silversmiths Assn. chain in London's West End as if they knew their way around.

Detectives swept on known fences, and posted a watch on docks and airports.

Cub Scout Finds Two Of Family Knifed To Death

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—A 9-year-old Cub Scout returned to his suburban Webster Groves home Monday to find his stepmother and her brother dead on the basement floor, the victims of a vicious knife attack.

Dead were Alice Haas, 52, and Cecil W. Giles, 56.

They were found by Mrs. Haas' stepson, David, who had been out selling tickets to a scout event.

A handyman who occasionally worked in the neighborhood and was reported seen in the area by neighbors Monday was being sought for questioning.

Soviet Sheds No Light On Fliers

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union told the United States once again Monday that it has no information about the still-unaccounted-for fliers missing from an American transport plane which crashed in southwestern U.S.S.R. in September 1958.

Mikhail N. Smirnovsky, counselor of the Soviet Embassy, gave this word at a short session with Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy.

The United States says the unarmed U.S. C-130 Air Force plane was shot down by Soviet fighters and crashed in Soviet Armenia near the Turkish frontier. The plane was "believed to have strayed off course."

The Russians subsequently turned over the bodies of six crew members, but despite repeated U.S. inquiries have said they have no information about the other 11 men who were aboard.

Waxing somewhat philosophical, Tawes said a state can get into serious trouble by not knowing when to resist and when to yield to demands and pressure for additional services. "The peril is particularly pronounced," he said, "in times of prosperity when surpluses accumulate in the treasury and increase the temptation to overspend."

John Battle Quits

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Former Virginia Gov. John S. Battle resigned Monday from the Civil Rights Commission, with which he had taken strong issue on a number of points.

He spurned President Eisenhower's request that he remain a member. Eisenhower accepted the resignation to be effective when a successor is chosen. Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the post would be filled "as soon as possible."

Dixie Leaders Cool To Idea Of Third Party

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP)—More cold water was thrown on any idea of a third-party movement Monday as the predominantly Democratic members of the Southern Governors' Conference got down to exchanging views on problems of mutual interest.

Several of the governors were highly critical of National Democratic Chairman Paul Butler, but none echoed South Carolina Gov. Ernest F. Hollings' threat to bolt if the 1960 Democratic presidential nominee is unacceptable to the South.

The Butler critics included Kentucky Gov. Albert B. "Happy" Chandler, who took the occasion virtually to announce as a candidate for the Democratic nomination next year.

Segregation was acknowledged as the major problem facing many southern states, but the governors officially maintained the iron curtain that has been thrown around it. The issue was ruled out of order before it ever was brought up at the trouble-shooting session.

However, the matter was a prominent topic in many unofficial discussions.

The problem of fitting available money to the demands for state services was touched on by at least four governors, Orville Faubus of Arkansas, J. Caleb Boggs of Delaware, Ernest Vandiver of Georgia, and J. Millard Tawes of Maryland.

Tawes, governor of less than a year's experience, chose finance as his major problem and blamed much of his trouble on the Republican administration which he succeeded.

Waxing somewhat philosophical, Tawes said a state can get into serious trouble by not knowing when to resist and when to yield to demands and pressure for additional services. "The peril is particularly pronounced," he said, "in times of prosperity when surpluses accumulate in the treasury and increase the temptation to overspend."

U.S.-Backed Turkey Lags In U.N. Race

Poland Has Edge As 13 Ballots Fail To Break Deadlock

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Turkey and Communist Poland deadlocked Monday in a race for a seat on the U.N. Security Council. At stake was the prestige of the United States, the principal supporter of Turkey.

Poland held an edge but failed to win the required two-thirds majority in a series of secret ballots in the 82-nation U.N. General Assembly. More voting will take place Tuesday.

On the 13th vote at the opening of the Assembly Monday afternoon Poland received 46 and Turkey 34 votes. Poland fell eight short of the required 54. Israel was absent because of the Yom Kippur holiday, and one other delegation abstained.

At one point during the morning Poland came within six votes of victory.

Ecuador, Ceylon Elected

At the suggestion of Argentina the Assembly decided to take the 13th vote, then delay additional voting until after disposing of elections to the economic and Social Council and other business.

The Assembly quickly elected Ecuador and Ceylon for two-year seats on the 11-nation Council, then bumped into the deadlock between Turkey and Poland.

Each year the Assembly elects three nonpermanent representatives to the Council, the U.N.'s most powerful political body. The United States, Britain, France, the Soviet Union and Nationalist China are permanent members.

Most U.N. diplomats took the view that a Turkish defeat would be a blow to the prestige of the United States, which has campaigned vigorously for Turkey.

1955 Contest Recalled

They recalled that United States support failed to elect the Philippines in a 1955 contest with Yugoslavia that went to 35 inconclusive ballots. The voting was spread over two months. Then the Philippines held the lead. Finally the deadlock was resolved by agreement to split the two-year term.

Adam Rapacki, the Polish foreign minister, declared his country was in the race to stay. He had the support of the nine-nation Soviet bloc, Yugoslavia, India and some other Asian-African nations, and almost half of the Latin-American bloc.

Turkish delegates said they were confident of ultimate victory.

Doctor Killed In Gun Battle

CHRISTIANSBURG, Va. (AP)—A jealous husband and the doctor companion of his estranged wife shot it out on a lonely country road Sunday night. The physician was fatally wounded and the husband, a Christiansburg town councilman, was in critical condition after surgery.

The councilman's 5-year-old daughter was a terrified witness to the gun battle.

Investigating officers said the fusillade began when the councilman, Garland Higgins, 35, swung his car in front of an auto carrying Dr. William L. Flanagan, 31, Higgins' estranged wife, Alice Lou, and the Higgins' daughter, Debra Ruth, sometime between 10:30 and 11 p.m.

Flanagan and Higgins jumped from their cars and opened fire, the physician using a .38 caliber pistol and the councilman a .22 caliber automatic.

Higgins was struck once in the abdomen with a .38 caliber shot. Flanagan was struck in the mouth and arm.

Higgins was charged with murder and placed under $10,000 bond. Authorities said Higgins and his wife, parents of three children, had been estranged for about a year and that Mrs. Higgins had filed for divorce. Flanagan, father of a 5-year-old daughter, was divorced from his wife.

Revolutionary Plot Smashed In Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—The government announced Monday it has smashed a revolutionary conspiracy against President Romulo Betancourt, and 40 persons are under arrest. More arrests are expected.

Ramon Velazquez, Betancourt's secretary, said the plotters were followers of deposed dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez, who is living in exile in Miami Beach, Fla.

Velazquez said the plotters planned to assassinate Betancourt; Vice President Raul Leoni; Adm. Carlos Larrazabal, navy chief; and Gen. Carlos Luis Araque, commander of the National Guard. The guard is Venezuela's national police force.

A series of bombings in Caracas was connected with the plot, officials said. Four small bombs exploded in Caracas Friday. Another exploded Sunday at a warehouse owned by Eugenio Mendoza, one of Venezuela's leading industrialists, and still another in front of the home of the brother-in-law of Miguel Angel Capriles, Caracas newspaper publisher. A bomb exploded Monday morning at the studios of the Cultura radio station.

The bombs were small and caused only minor damage. Officials said the purpose of the bombings was to create a state of tension.

Officials quoted some of those under arrest as saying they had a promise from Gen. Rafael Trujillo, Dominican Republic dictator, to simulate an invasion of Venezuela to further the plotters' campaign.

16-Year-Old Boy Unable To Explain Double Slaying

LANSE, Mich. (AP)—A 16-year-old boy who said he left his admitted both slayings. He asked Probate Court to waive jurisdiction on the youth so he can be younger sister sat dry-eyed and calm in his jail cell Monday, unable to explain the double killing.

"I did it. But I don't know why. That family has been awful good to me," Eugene Paquet of L'Anse told William G. Konstenius, Baraga County prosecutor.

Edward Frosland, 44, a rural L'Anse laborer, and his daughter, Lila Lynn, 10, were slain Sunday night. Frosland was shot in the back of the head. Lila Lynn was clubbed unconscious with a large iron bolt and then strangled with a rope.

Paquet said he watched television for an hour at the Frosland home after the slayings.

Airing Of Red Grab Approved By 43-11 Vote

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—The United Nations General Assembly voted Monday night to hold a full-scale debate on the Chinese Communist bloodbath in Tibet. The vote was 43 in favor and 11 against, with 25 abstentions.

The vote, over heavy Communist objections, followed a plea by the exiled Dalai Lama that the United Nations take up the question so that the people of Tibet could be "allowed to live their own lives in peace."

The plea of the Tibetan god-king was contained in a message sent to the world organization through Irish brother.

Irish-Malaya Resolution

The vote was on a resolution by Ireland and Malaya urging respect for human rights and religious liberties in Tibet. The actual resolution made no specific reference to Red China but each of the delegates who spoke on the matter mentioned the Chinese Communists.

During the argument on the Ireland-Malaya resolution on Tibet, Soviet Ambassador Vasily V. Kuznetsov charged that debate on the Tibetan problem would be a "flagrant violation" of charter provisions prohibiting interference in the internal affairs of states.

In an obvious reference to the United States and its Allies, Kuznetsov charged that the Tibetan question was being raised to try to "poison the atmosphere, to prevent the relaxation of international tension" and to slander the Chinese Communists.

Lodge Assails Kuznetsov

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge took the floor after the vote and denounced Kuznetsov for statements he made last Friday accusing the U.S. Department of State of backing the Tibetan item in order to launch a slander campaign.

"Mr. Kuznetsov tries to put forth the argument that we must ignore all of the crimes being committed in the world or else be accused of promoting the cold war," Lodge said.

"This is a dangerous misconception."

Newsman Throw Big Party For Ike

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The newsmen who cover President Eisenhower threw a gigantic 69th birthday party in his honor Monday night, complete with a surprise gift aimed at improving the President's favorite lines highlighted the dinner given by the White House Correspondents Association as an advance birthday celebration for Eisenhower. He will be 69 Wednesday.

Mexican President Adolfo Lopez Mateos, Eisenhower's guest in Washington, accompanied the American chief executive to the stag dinner which drew a turnout of 1,100 in the big hall of the Sheraton Park Hotel.

The association's surprise present to Eisenhower was a specially-made exact duplicate of "Calamity Jane," the famous putter which golfing great Robert T. (Bobby) Jones won many tournaments. The association, in announcing the gift, said Eisenhower would have no excuse now for missing any difficult puts.

Earlier there had been rumors that some delegates would walk out when Kennedy appeared because of his role in labor reform legislation. But nothing like this happened.

"I do not intend to apologize to members of organized labor or to the members of the general public for my record in recent days and months and years," Kennedy said.

Then referring to Teamsters President James R. Hoffa, Kennedy said, "Jimmie Hoffa may not approve of me, but I do not apologize for having earned his hostility."

Court Order Truce Draws Union Blast

T-H Injunction Solves Nothing, McDonald Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—Declaring it will not be beaten, the United Steelworkers Union said Monday a court order may force an 80-day truce in the record steel strike "but there will be no permanent peace."

Steelworkers President David J. McDonald told a White House fact-finding panel that at the end of the enforced truce the basic issue would remain unsolved. The basic issue, he said, is "whether the companies will break the union."

His voice swelling to a roar, the white-haired union chief boomed that the Steelworkers "never, and I repeat never" would yield to management's demands. He said these call for elimination of protection for workers against changes in local working conditions as a prerequisite to a wage settlement.

McDonald shouted that such changes — which the companies say are necessary to cut labor costs—can be imposed "only over our dead bodies."

Panel Begins Hearings

McDonald and Arthur J. Goldberg, the union's general counsel, were leadoff witnesses as a three-man panel began hearings intended to help President Eisenhower decide whether to seek a strike-halting injunction. The board is under orders to report to Eisenhower by Friday.

Industry spokesmen were in line to give their views to the fact finders after the union had had its say about the increasingly bitter dispute which dragged through its 90th day. The company representatives are expected to state their case Tuesday.

In the past, the companies have accused the unions of demanding pay boosts and other benefits that management argued would threaten new inflation. The steel firms have pledged to resist this, and there was no sign they were ready to back off.

Board Hopes For Agreement

This, together with McDonald's no-retreat stand, pointed to a renewed walkout about New Year's Day even if a federal court order should send the strikers back to the mills for 80 days. McDonald said his union would bow to an injunction, although opposed to it.

The panel's assigned job is to find the facts in the case, but Chairman George W. Taylor had made it clear he planned to try to work out a voluntary agreement. Taylor, an old hand at arbitrating such settlements, is outspoken in his feelings that a Taft-Hartley injunction only serves to prolong a labor dispute.

UAW Applauds Sen. Kennedy

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) told the United Auto Workers' convention Monday he did not consider it a political liability to be associated with organized labor "and particularly with the UAW."

Appearing before the convention as a potential candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960, Kennedy was given a standing ovation by nearly 3,000 delegates.

He avoided making any new disclosure of his political intentions but he drew a big cheer when he suggested that UAW President Walter P. Reuther "would do very well" as a candidate. He was commenting on handbills distributed at the entrance of the hall suggesting "Reuther for president."

Earlier there had been rumors that some delegates would walk out when Kennedy appeared because of his role in labor reform legislation. But nothing like this happened.

"I do not intend to apologize to members of organized labor or to the members of the general public for my record in recent days and months and years," Kennedy said.

Then referring to Teamsters President James R. Hoffa, Kennedy said, "Jimmie Hoffa may not approve of me, but I do not apologize for having earned his hostility."

Tawes Says He Learned Lesson From McKeldin

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Gov. Tawes sent a comforting word to Maryland taxpayers Monday. He said he will close his mind to a surplus that is anticipated to exceed 20 million dollars and save it if possible.

The Democratic governor with the public reputation of being a penny-pincher said he had learned a lesson from his Republican predecessor, Theodore R. McKeldin.

Tawes recalled that McKeldin had finished the 1956 fiscal year with a surplus of 26 million. He used all except 6 million to balance the budget. He followed a similar practice the next year and in 1958 had to increase both the sales and income taxes 50 per cent to come out even.

"We find ourselves now in much the same position we were in 1956 with prospects of a substantial surplus by the end of this fiscal year," Tawes said.

"The question is: Will we profit by our experience of 1956-58?"

High Court Will Review Labor, Political Issue

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court Monday granted an organized labor plea for review of a lower court ruling which could profoundly affect union membership and political activity.

It also followed a hands-off line on details of school integration cases.

Its refusal to review lower court rulings in school cases had these effects:

1. In Prince Edward County, Va., there remains unchanged a circuit court order for immediate integration which has resulted in county officials closing all public schools.

2. The Norfolk, Va., City Council continues under court injunction not to cut off public school funds.

3. Negroes in Raleigh and Montgomery counties, N.C., are prevented from speeding up the desegregation which is proceeding piecemeal under a state pupil assignment law.

The court agreed unanimously to review a decision of the Georgia Supreme Court that compulsory union membership is unconstitutional if the union uses for political activity any of the dues collected.

The case was brought in Macon, Ga., by six employees of the Southern Railway System who were required to join unions under a union shop agreement which calls for such membership after 60 days of employment.

In the Prince Edward case, Virginia unsuccessfully sought reinstatement of a U.S. district court order giving the county until 1965 to begin integration. The U.S. circuit court at Richmond reversed it and ordered desegregation to begin in September 1959.

Rather than accept this decision, the county closed all its three high schools and 18 elementary schools. Most of its 1,500-plus white school-age children are now in privately operated schools but there has been no general provision for the more than 1,700 Negro children.

The Norfolk City Council tried unsuccessfully to have the high court hear an appeal from a U.S. district court order, later affirmed by the circuit court, that the Council had no right to cut off funds for all Norfolk schools above the sixth grade.

The Council tried this as Virginia's massive resistance to integration collapsed. As a result of the court order, all schools closed under the resistance program reopened last February and there was limited integration.

The refusal to hear appeals from Negroes dissatisfied with North Carolina's pace on desegregation, had the effect of upholding that state's pupil placement law.

Quads' Initials All "K. M. G."

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Graves quadruplets were named Monday and the hospital said they were feeding well.

Mrs. Lorraine Graves of Annapolis, 30-year-old Negro, named the newest of her 12 children Kim Marie, Karen May, Katherine Mary and Kevin Mark.

The quadruplets — the odds are 657,000 to one — were born Saturday afternoon in Johns Hopkins Hospital.

The hospital said the babies began feeding Sunday and were doing well at it Monday.

Kim Marie, the largest at 4 pounds, 8 ounces, was moved into an intermediate-sized incubator. Katherine Mary is the smallest at 3 pounds, 8 ounces. Kevin Mark weighs 3 pounds, 11 ounces and Karen May 3 pounds, 13 1/2 ounces.

A hospital spokesman said all of them are expected to remain in incubators for at least the remainder of this week. They probably will be kept in the hospital about three weeks.

Mrs. Graves lives with her mother, Mrs. Temperance Simms. Her husband, George, an auto mechanic, has been living in Centerville, Va., for some time.

Among the Graves' eight other children are two sets of twins, 2 and 8.

Florida Integration Test Almost Dead

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Only one white child entered Orchard Villa Elementary School Monday, along with 400 Negroes, and Florida's first experiment in public school integration was almost dead.

Fourteen whites attended Orchard Villa at the start of the fall term but they have been pulling out one by one as the Dade County School Board assigned more Negroes to the school.

Jetliners Shelved

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet airline Aeroflot announced Monday it is taking its jet airliners off the Moscow-London route during the winter. A spokesman said the jets use up so much fuel during the flight they are unable to circle or stay up for long periods if airports are blacked out by fog or bad weather.

Palmer Planned Fourth Murder

JERSEYVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Mild-mannered James Palmer, a young man of two conflicting personalities, disclosed Monday that only chance prevented him from killing a fourth person.

The admitted killer of three unresisting victims in separate hold-ups over a 12-day period last month told Police Chief Herman Blackorby he intended to shoot his former Army commanding officer, Lt. Frank E. McDermott, during a recent visit to Albuquerque, N.M.

"I telephoned the home and described myself as 'a buddy,'" Blackorby quoted the 21-year-old Palmer as saying. "His father answered and said he was still in France. If he'd have been home, he'd have been shot."

"McDermott was my commanding officer in France and I didn't like him."

Indian Attends Church, Admits Bank Robbery

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP) — An Indian, urged by his wife to go to church, whispered to another worshipper at the Assembly of God here Sunday that he wanted to admit a bank robbery.

Sheriff's Lt. Joseph Kimble later said Gawwexkey Smith, 29, admitted robbing the Webbers Falls State Bank in Oklahoma of $2,694 on Feb. 3, and spending the money for medical bills for his wife and two children. Smith, a painter, was held for the FBI.

The Fifty-fifth...and the Finest!

It was shortly after the turn of the century that the first Cadillac car—"the automobile built to the highest standards it is possible to enforce on the production of a motor car"—made its appearance.

Every year since—save for a period when Cadillac devoted its energies to the national defense—a new interpretation of this unique goal has been presented to the world's motorists.

The superlative motor car illustrated above is the fifty-fifth in this unprecedented succession of distinguished automotive creations.

And it is, far and away, the finest and the noblest Cadillac of them all!

Never before has Cadillac artistry created such elegance of form and line. It has a commanding presence that is uniquely Cadillac.

Never before has Cadillac engineering produced so abundantly. The car is smooth and quiet to a degree that challenges belief.

Never before has Cadillac craftsmanship provided such interior luxury. And the complement of conveniences has never been more satisfying.

No matter how many of the fifty-five Cadillacs you may have owned and enjoyed over the years—you still have a wonderful experience ahead of you in this latest "car of cars."

Smathers May Run

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — U.S. Sen. George Smathers may announce at a Miami meeting this week whether he will accept a draft as Florida's "favorite son" presidential candidate. The senator will be among the main speakers at a lunch in Miami Friday honoring state officials voted outstanding by the 1959 legislature. Gov. Leroy Collins will present the awards.

Russians Tour Italy

NAPLES, Italy (UPI)—A group of 400 Russian tourists arrived here Monday aboard the Soviet ship "Pobeda." The Russians were scheduled to take tours of Naples offshore islands and the interior, then visit Rome aboard a special train. The "Pobeda" will go to Alexandria, Egypt, next on its Mediterranean cruise which ends at Odessa.

100 Debaters Expected

MIDDLETOWN, Conn. (UPI)—About 100 debaters from 20 eastern colleges are expected to attend the conference on the national intercollegiate debate question at Wesleyan University Saturday. The question is, "Resolved: That Congress should be given the power to reverse decisions of the Supreme Court."

Land Investment Pays Off For Actor Nolan Long Distance Dialing

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Actor Lloyd Nolan has parlayed a $25,000 real estate deal in nearby San Fernando Valley into a $500,000 nest egg.

Nolan bought 110 acres of property, about 35 miles from Hollywood, in the late thirties before phenomenal population growth turned the area into a Los Angeles bedroom.

"I've been offered half a million dollars for that land, more than I've made in my 35 years of acting," Nolan revealed. "I don't know if I'll sell the property though."

"In another 20 years it could be worth 20-million but I might not be around then. You see, it's develop it himself."

one quarter of a new development which will have a shopping center, golf course and a direct freeway into L.A.

"In fact, it might be wise for me not to sell until the freeway is completed."

Lloyd originally purchased the acreage for ranching purposes.

"I ran it as a ranch for awhile, raising hogs," he added. "But it wasn't too profitable because I couldn't get out there often enough. Now we're renting it to a group of ranchers."

Pointing out that the land can be used for residential or industrial sites, Lloyd admitted he would be silly to attempt to develop it himself.

CHICAGO (UPI) — It may not be long before a person will be able to pick up a phone and dial a city in Europe, a telephone official said Monday. Richard A. Mathews, an official of American Telephone and Telegraph Co. of New York, said eventual world-wide long distance telephone dialing by telephone users is entirely within the realm of possibility.

"In this country long distance dialing of telephone numbers is growing by leaps and bounds," he said. "And it is being favored by subscribers because of the ease and speed with which one can reach a distant telephone."

Monty Apologizes To Labor's Voters

LONDON (UPI) — Britain's fiery old war hero Lord Montgomery, apologized Sunday to 12,216,166 persons for tagging them as people who "should be locked up in a lunatic asylum."

He telephoned the Sunday Express to say "I said it as a joke."

The 12,216,166 were those who voted for Labor government in last week's elections. Montgomery, in a speech three days before election day Thursday, said "anybody who votes Labor in this election should be locked up in a lunatic asylum . . . Anybody who wants to change the management now . . . must be absolutely barmy, off his rocker, completely off his rocker."

Sunday he said "I said it as a joke, just a joke. I said it lightly. I am sorry it was not appreciated as a joke."

He added briskly, "I think that covers the situation."

Moves Toward Luzon

MANILA (UPI)—Typhoon Charlotte with center winds of 120 miles per hour Monday moved toward the Philippines at nine miles per hour and was expected to hit northern Luzon Monday night, the Manila Weather Bureau reported. The bureau said the typhoon early Monday was 480 miles off Baler in eastern Luzon Island. It urged persons in the threatened area to take necessary precautions.

Plan Manned Rockets

LONDON (UPI) — Russia will shoot the first man into space in the spring, the London Daily Herald reported Monday. The Herald, in a report from Moscow, said "Soviet scientists are confident they can send a manned rocket 200 miles up and bring the pilot back to earth alive."

WHAT MAKES BUICK DRIVE SO SMOOTHLY?

Buick's Exclusive Turbine Drive is Jet-Smooth...

No Mechanical Gears Ever Shift!

In a day when so many cars are alike, we believe you should know how basically different and how basically better a Buick is built.

For instance, no car at Buick's price, nor any car at a higher price, offers you so smooth, so dependable, so trouble-free an automatic transmission as Buick's Turbine Drive.

In ordinary automatic transmissions, gears are shifted automatically. But the shift is there! You feel it shift or hear it shift. And with each shift, the engine must adjust to a change in load, the wheels must handle a change in traction.

With today's Buick in "Drive"—the flow of power from toe to wheels is jet-smooth, faster than ever and uninterrupted. The only thing that shifts is the pitch of stator blades in a swift, powerful current of oil . . . high angle for superb performance in starting or passing . . . low angle for best economy at cruising speeds.

Turbine Drive Transmission is available in every Buick. If you choose the LeSabre — the lowest-priced Buick — it is a modestly priced option. If your choice is Invicta—the high-performance Buick—or Electra—the finest Buick of all . . . it is yours as standard equipment. But the only sure way to get this quality Buick feature is to buy a Buick. And this is the year. This is Buick at its all-time best!

Nothing shifts but the pitch of the stator blades in a jet-smooth flow of oil. High angle for quick starts and passing. Low angle for economical cruising.

Vandals Ransack Two Ft. Meade Area Schools

FERNDALE, Md. (AP) — Vandals broke into three schools in the Ft. Meade area over the weekend and ransacked two of them, Anne Arundel County police reported Monday.

Those entered were the Ridgeway Elementary School, Meade Heights Elementary and Harman's Elementary. At all three soft drink machines were forced open and money taken or bottles scattered about.

Police said every room was entered at the Ridgeway School. Drawers of teachers' desks were pulled open and the contents dumped. Jars of ink were emptied and the cafeteria was ransacked. Door locks were broken and several windows were smashed.

At the Harman's school eggs and milk were splashed around the cafeteria and the front was torn off the face of a clock. Locks were pried off doors. Thieves got $7 from a soft drink machine and took some cash from the principal's desk.

At Meade Heights a safe was forced open but there was no money in it. An undetermined amount of cash was taken from a soft drink machine.

Germans Predict "Wine Of Century"

MAINZ, Germany (AP)—Church bells in Germany's grape-growing areas soon will announce the end of the harvest and vintners are confident they will have a "wine of the century" in their casks.

Weeks of tests have confirmed to experts what had been widely expected after Germany's sunniest summer of the century—the 1959 vintage will rank among the finest ever.

In the heart of the wine country along the Rhine and Moselle rivers, they say 1959 may even surpass the legendary 1921 or 1911. These are supposed to have been among the best wine years since Roman legionnaires grew the first vine in this region 2,000 years ago.

Pa. Turnpike Appeal Denied

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission has been denied a Supreme Court review of its effort to prevent a $900,000 federal income tax refund from going to Manu-Mine Research and Development Co.

The commission appeal said the president of the Reading, Pa., company had been convicted of conspiracy to defraud and obtaining money by false pretenses from the commission. The charges developed from a large mine-filling contract for an extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

The appeal stated the firm "obtained possession of the money by fraud, used it to pay the income taxes on the money so obtained, and then applied for the refund which the defendant district director (of internal revenue at Philadelphia) was about to make."

The commission asked the U.S. District Court in Philadelphia to restrain the director from making the refund to Manu-Mine, and to order the money paid to the commission. The district court held it had jurisdiction to act, but on appeal the U.S. circuit court in Philadelphia ruled it lacked authority.

Appealing to the Supreme Court, the commission contended the federal district court was "certainly the logical place in which to sue the district director on such a claim."

Lard Is Added To Surplus Foods

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Arch W. Moore (R-W. Va.) said Sunday surplus lard would be distributed by the Department of Agriculture to needy families in West Virginia and other states.

Moore said in West Virginia the lard would be added to the list of other food commodities such as flour, corn meal, dried beans and rice now being made available by the State Department of Public Assistance to indigent families.

Out Numbered

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — Male students outnumber coeds three to one at West Virginia University this fall, it was announced Sunday. Of the 6,372 students enrolled for fall classes, 4,693 are men while 1,679 are women, Registrar J. Everett Long revealed.

Rapist Rebuffed By Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused to review an appeal by Isaac Bullock, who is under two consecutive life sentences in Maryland on a charge of rape.

Bullock was convicted in two different trials in Baltimore. In one he was charged with rape of a medical student at Johns Hopkins Hospital, who was attacked in the vestibule of her home. The second involved a charge that he raped a housewife and mother of five children while she was in the vestibule of her home in the same general neighborhood of the hospital.

He appealed to the Supreme Court on grounds the evidence of

Roller Rink Bandit Sought

REISTERSTOWN, Md. (AP) — A bandit armed with a rifle or shotgun was being sought by Baltimore County police Monday for a $1,050 holdup of a roller skating rink at nearby Upperco.

Investigators said the Negro gunman may be the same man who shot Albert Yarema, Reisterstown Road tavernkeeper, in an Aug. 15 robbery attempt.

In Sunday night's roller rink holdup, the bandit threatened proprietor Harry Morfoot, an employee, the employee's wife, and their 13-year-old daughter.

U. Of Paris To Honor Math Specialist

BALTIMORE (AP) — Dr. Solomon Lefschetz, mathematics research director of the Martin Co.'s Research Institute for Advanced Study, will receive an honorary doctorate Friday at the University of Paris, the company announced Monday.

Lefschetz, a Moscow-born engineer who came to the United States shortly after his 1905 graduation from the University of Paris, is a former chairman of the Princeton University department of mathematics.

He established a mathematical research center at the Martin Institute after the Soviet Sputnik launchings.

Come for the quietest ride you've ever tried . . . a Quadri-Balanced Ride in a '60 Rocket!

What is Quadri-Balanced Ride? It's the smoothest, steadiest and quietest ride in Oldsmobile history . . . and you owe it to yourself to try it out on the road! This dramatic advance is the result of new "ride-engineering" introduced on the '60 Olds. Vibra-Tuned body mountings of live-action rubber that are up to 50% thicker have been electronically located at the points of least vibration on Oldsmobile's Guard-Beam Frame to insulate the body from road noise and harshness. Combined with new nylon-sleeved shock absorbers there's an amazing and wonderful difference . . . the quietest ride you've ever tried! Try a '60 Rocket on the road today!

HOW WOULD YOU PAY FOR A LONG-TERM DISABILITY?

SOME FAMILIES would dig into their savings—for awhile. Others would have to borrow sooner or later — putting themselves in debt for years.

But a growing number of farsighted families have insured against the risks of catastrophic disabilities with Nationwide's low cost MAJOR MEDICAL PLAN.

This "heavy duty" policy pays up to $10,000 for each disability — takes over where most short-term medical or hospital benefits run out. And Nationwide's deductible and co-insurance features help to keep the premium low.

One policy protects your whole family . . . including new babies after the first, at no extra cost. Even hospitalized mental illness to age 65 is covered by Nationwide . . . and your protection is guaranteed renewable. For all the facts on this unusual plan, see your nearby Nationwide representative.

Bidders Against Pact Renegotiation

Renegotiation of the city garbage collection contract was opposed in letters to the Mayor and Council from two of the unsuccessful bidders yesterday.

The letters were from John Riley, one of the previous holders of the contract, and Mrs. Louise A. Beck, widow of C. L. Beck, who held the last previous collection pact.

Both Riley and Mrs. Beck stated that any renegotiation so soon after the awarding of the contract was "unfair to the taxpayers and bidders were aware that a pay raise was impending for municipal employees, and that the bidders were also cognizant of the ordinance covering the wage scale.

The dispute has been going on since the city granted municipal employees a pay increase, the garbage collection contract stipulating that employees of the firm must be paid the prevailing wage scale of city workers.

Mrs. Lucile R. Roeder, who presided in the absence of Mayor J. Edwin Keech, said nothing definite would be done on the renegotiation until the full council was present.

Thomas B. Finan, who attended the council session as attorney for Emmett A. Dougherty, who was awarded the contract, said all bidders were aware that a pay raise was impending for municipal employees, and that the bidders were also cognizant of the ordinance covering the wage scale.

The complaints against renegotiation Finan termed "Monday morning quarterbacking," and also pointed out that action by the city in adjusting the contract was not an unusual condition.

Opposition to another matter was also received at yesterday's council session. Local 453 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers writing that the local was unanimously opposed to the addition of fluorides to the city water supply.

At last Monday's meeting, fluoridation of the water was asked by the Allegheny Council for Scientific Progress, composed of members of the Allegheny-Garrett County Medical Society, Allegheny-Garrett County Dental Society, Allegheny-Garrett County Pharmaceutical Association and the Western Maryland Section of the American Chemical Society.

The previous city administration had passed an order approving fluoridation, but present members have stated that they will maintain a "hands off" policy until the matter is decided by a referendum.

Firms Want North End Street Wider

Four business firms in the North Cumberland area yesterday requested the Mayor and Council to widen Franklin Street between Mechanic and Centre streets in the interest of traffic safety.

The firms, Bennett Transfer and Storage Company, Cumberland Brewing Company, Kline's Market and Ort Brothers Bakery claimed that North Cumberland has been one of the fastest growing sections of the city in the past ten years, and that Franklin Street consequently has had greatly increased use by motorists.

The request was made that the city take steps to acquire property necessary to widening the street between Centre and Mechanic, pointing out that its narrowness was a hazard to drivers as well as pedestrians.

Commissioner John J. Long said the widening of the section of Franklin Street has been under study for a number of years and suggested that City Attorney William R. Carscaden and City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum meet with representatives of the firms in order to discuss the costs of such a project. Carscaden said a file on the costs already has been prepared, and that he and Nuzum will set up a meeting with representatives of the firms.

In other action yesterday, Council referred to Nuzum a letter from Homer S. Oster, 912 Bedford Street, complaining that the paving of an alley between Frederick and Lincoln streets had resulted in the draining of water onto property he owns on Frederick Street.

Nuzum informed council that the paving has been made on grade, and that he would so inform Oster.

C. G. Rickard Jr., assistant city engineer, streets, parks and planning, came in for commendation from Knoxa Twigg, 1303 Lafayette Avenue, who wrote Council that the opening of an alley in the rear of Roberts Street insured a safe route for fire trucks and other vehicles traveling to that section of town.

The earliest marine insurance contracts were recorded in England in 1583.

Ironworkers Local Erecting Huge Towers

Members of the Cumberland Local 568, Ironworkers Union, have the job of putting up the two giant erecting towers at the Naval Research Laboratory at Sugar Grove, Pendleton County.

The towers contain 2,500 tons of steel and required nearly 100 railroad cars to move the material from the Roanoke Plant of the U.S. Steel's American Bridge Division to the railroad at Bridgewater, Va.

The steel was then transported by truck 46 miles over mountain highways to the project site.

Despite their giant size, the structural steel towers are merely the platforms which will support the derricks for building the 600-foot diameter radio telescope and must be dismantled and removed when the "big dish" is completed. Completion of the project is scheduled for 1962.

The twin towers are 90 feet square and will be 420 feet high when completed, the highest such towers ever employed on any construction project. The structures are at opposite sides of the project site to facilitate eventual construction of the radio telescope. The towers are being built simultaneously. Guy derricks serve to lift the steel members to each level, moving upward in levels 30 feet at a time.

As each 30-foot stage is completed, the guy derricks are moved higher for the next stage. As the steel moves upward 30 feet, a platform is constructed for the the guy derricks to lift steel for succeeding stages of the tower's erection. When all members are bolted together, the towers will be higher than a 40-story building.

Today, the towers have been built 360 feet into the air.

The entire erection site is within the 800-foot diameter of the project area. The twin structures can operate and move on heavy duty railroad trucks. The two four-wheeled trucks at each of the tower's corners will be capable of supporting an over-all weight, including derricks, of 2,600 tons. The towers will be capable of moving forward and backward over railroad beds up to 675 feet in length. In addition to wooden "floats" as a platform for the high steel men working on the towers, safety nets are being attached at the 150-foot level and at upper levels in the future of the construction progress.

The huge 20,000-ton steel instrument will operate on two 13-foot tracks, one with a radius of 140 feet and the other 190 feet. The telescope will be the world's largest moveable structure and is designed to move to any minute or second of degree to pick up radio impulses sent off by stars, planets and other heavenly objects.

The two circular foundations for the steel tracking are of solid concrete 13 feet wide and six feet deep. The tracks on which the telescope will revolve will be steel bands four inches thick and ten inches wide.

Oakland Council Votes Increase Of Water Rates

OAKLAND — The Mayor and Council of Oakland have advanced water rates for consumers, effective January 1, 1960, making the minimum per quarter $6.75 for persons inside the corporation and $10.50 per quarter minimum for resident outside the town limits.

The new set-up is as follows: Inside corporation, $2.25 for first 1,000 gallons, 75 cents for each additional 1,000, minimum $2.25 per month or $6.75 per quarter; outside corporation, $3.50 for first 1,000 gallons, $1.25 per each additional 1,000 gallons, minimum $3.50 per month or $10.50 per quarter.

Council said rates would be considered as temporary rates to take care of such contingencies as may arise until such time as water treatment plant is completed and permanent rates established. The increase was approved by a unanimous vote of council.

In other business council approved a contribution of $100 to the Chamber of Commerce for Christmas decorations. Also approved was a Halloween celebration for the Mt. City Band and Lions Club Thursday, October 29, with permission to block off a portion of Second Street.

Gov. Underwood Favors Changing Constitution

ASHEVILLE, N. C. (UPI) — West Virginia Gov. Cecil H. Underwood said Monday he would support changing West Virginia's constitution that would strengthen the office of governor.

Underwood told a session of the Southern Governors Conference here that he would support a so-called "short ballot" amendment.

It was proposed recently by the State Committee on Constitutional Revision and would have West Virginia voters elect only a governor, an auditor and an attorney general.

At the present voters elect six persons to the West Virginia Board of Public Works which controls many facets of the state government.

Underwood pointed out two problems in the present setup — the governor cannot succeed himself while the other board members can and the governor has no control over his administration budget.

Underwood said he firmly believes in the principle of strict accountability to the electorate but "I believe the chief executive should have authority over that for which he is accountable." He said that he did not mean any direct criticism of present members of the board but referred to the board only in terms of theory of government.

Grayson explained that the proposals will be subject to a public referendum of the property owners of the sections concerned before any action can be taken. He expressed hope that the expansion could be completed by the end of the year.

Commissioner Paul Peters said council had practically decided on extending the city limits, and therefore they would support these extensions. Upon the motion of Peters council sanctioned the action of the committee and promised support in any way possible.

Grayson, along with Ludwick, explained that preliminary surveys were being lined up. When better plans are available to the group, they would submit them to council.

The City Expansion Committee consists of members of the Chamber of Commerce, the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Yeoman Club.

Grayson, along with Ludwick, explained that preliminary surveys were being lined up. When better plans are available to the group, they would submit them to council.

Paw Paw P.O. Being Remodeled

PAW PAW — The Paw Paw post office is in the process of being remodeled.

The recessed entrance has been done away with and the door is now flush with the front of the building. Boxes will be moved forward two feet, enlarging the work space. Another one foot of space will be added to the lobby.

Changes have been made in the apartment at the rear of the building, owned by the IOOF, and an additional rest room is being added.

The IOOF is planning to paint the inside, and probably the outside of the building and install an awning at the front.

Retired Agent To Attend Sessions

FROSTBURG — Raymond Blank, RD 1, Frostburg, retired agent for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company will attend a meeting and luncheon of the Del-Mar Chapter of the Veterans Association tomorrow at Sheraton Belvedere Hotel, Baltimore. An annual affair, the business session will begin at 10 a.m. followed by a luncheon.

Beall Study Group Meets

FROSTBURG — The Parent-Child Study Group of Beall Elementary School will meet Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. with Mrs. Jeaneta McFarland in charge. A skit, "Fresh, Variable Winds" will be presented by the members, followed by a discussion.

AAUW Flower Show Is Open To Public

Annual Exhibition At FSTC Tonight

FROSTBURG — The third annual flower show will be presented by the Young Women's Study Group at the general meeting of the Frostburg - Georges Creek Branch of the American Association of University Women tonight in Lowndes Hall at Frostburg State Teachers College.

The theme will be "A Vagabond Son," a poem written by Bliss Carman. Arrangements centering about excerpts from the poem will be as follows:

Class 1—"There is Something in the Autumn," dried materials of all varieties with no fresh cut flowers or foliage permitted, entries by Mrs. Harry L. Devore, Mrs. Robert Hager, Mrs. Wayne Layman, Mrs. Daniel W. Shupe and Mrs. John Zimmerman; Class 2—"Touch of Manner, Hint of Mood," miniature arrangement not to exceed five inches in overall dimensions, fresh or dried materials with accessories permitted, entries by Mrs. Ward K. Cole, Mrs. Harold Cordts, Mrs. Robert Hager and Mrs. Benjamin Hughes Jr.

Class 3—"The Yellow and the Purple and the Crimson," arrangement of fresh fruits or vegetables with additional foliage permitted, entries by Mrs. Harold Cordts, Mrs. Harry L. Devore, Mrs. William Huggins, Mrs. Benjamin Hughes Jr., Mrs. George Lawton, Mrs. Frank Munson and Mrs. E. Burnett Van Fossen; Class 4—"The Scarlet of the Maples," foliage arrangement with no flowers permitted and one or more accessories required, entries by Mrs. Harold Cordts, Mrs. Benjamin Hughes Jr. and Mrs. E. Burnett Van Fossen.

Class 5—"The Frosty Asters Like A Smoke Upon the Hills," mass arrangement of fresh fall flowers and foliage, entries by Mrs. Harold Cordts and Mrs. William Wood; Class 6—"There is Something in October," live arrangement suggesting autumn with fresh cut plant materials and a minimum of one fall flower required, entries by Mrs. Harold Cordts, Mrs. Margaret Faulk, Mrs. Frank Munson, Mrs. Daniel W. Shupe and Mrs. George Lawton.

Prior to the flower show a general meeting will be held in the college dining hall at 7:30 p.m. The show will begin at 8:15 p.m. in the social room of Lowndes Hall, and for the first time the program has decided to open the program to the public.

Members of the Cumberland Garden Club will attend the showing. Serving on the social committee are Mrs. Virgil Atkinson, Mrs. Robert Bittner, Miss Grace Filer and Miss Gertrude Williams.

Police Order Is Against Hiring Of Non-Residents

Thomas N. Berry, attorney for the local Fraternal Order of Police lodge, expressed opposition to a proposed charter amendment resolution at yesterday's meeting of the Mayor and Council.

Berry said the FOP unit was particularly interested in the removal of the employment requirement that heretofore has specified that applicants for police and fire departments must be residents of the city for a period of at least three years.

The proposed resolution, he continued, carries only the stipulation that employees of the two departments shall become residents within 30 days after becoming permanently employed. Berry said if the resolution remains unchanged an out-of-state resident could work for 13 months before becoming a resident.

He also said that it is generally conceded that one of the key factors in law enforcement is a working knowledge of a city, its customs and residents. Experience in such factors, Berry continued, also is vital in the selection of the command elements of the police and fire departments.

Improvement in the quality of police and fire protection for Cumberland can best be obtained, Berry stated, by following the recommendation of a former chief judge of Allegany County Circuit Court who recommended that city police be given further training at the National Police Academy of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Berry pointed out that Police Chief B. Frank Gaffney is a graduate of the FBI academy, and that council should be commended for his selection as police chief.

Berry stressed that unless some action was taken by council the charter amendment resolution will take effect on November 12.

The Mayor and Council appointed two new members to the board of directors of the Cumberland Free Public Library this morning. Former Chief Judge George Henderson was named to fill the unexpired term of the late John J. Tipton, and Robert E. Moore was named to the unexpired term of the late Lewyn C. Davis. Judge Henderson's term will expire January 1, 1964, and Moore's term next January 1.

The Cumberland Library Association wrote asking the Council to sponsor them in a request for the purchase of surplus government property. Needed is a desk, table, typewriter, catalog unit and 12 chairs. Council agreed to sponsor the association in its request.

LaVale Unit Plans Drive

The 1959 County United Fund campaign was endorsed yesterday by Edward F. Mullan Jr. and Cromwell Zembower, co-chairmen of the LaVale Community Committee, which will conduct a fire-protection fund drive in the LaVale area later this month.

"Our committee supports CUP 100 per cent," the co-chairmen stated. "We want to do our part for the health, welfare and youth programs of all area communities."

Mullan and Zembower, representing the LaVale Civic Improvement Association and the LaVale Volunteer Fire Department respectively, added that the LaVale fund drive is not to be confused with County United Fund.

"Our drive is separate," they said. "It will be conducted strictly within our own area, and will give our people the opportunity to support their fire department for the protection of their homes and businesses."

A planning committee working with Mullan and Zembower has divided the LaVale area into 13 zones, which include more than 100 businesses as well as all resi-

Local Couple Wins Event In Bridge Tournament Held Here

The finals of the two-day Mason-Dixon bridge tournament at the Cumberland Country Club found a Cumberland couple winning one of the two top events.

Dr. and Mrs. Paul Castelle, of this city, won the mixed pairs championship Sunday.

The open pairs event, held Saturday afternoon and night, had Maj. William Christian and Mrs. Marie Hilliard, both of Arlington, Va., as the winners.

The women's pair championship on Saturday was won by Mrs. Emmett L. Jones, LaVale, and Mrs. Milton Gerson, this city, while C. C. DeHaven and G. Wellington Reinhart, also of here took first place in the men's pairs competition.

Placing in the mixed pairs event behind Dr. and Mrs. Castelle, in order, were: Mrs. Harry E. Potts and Harry Potts, both of Uniontown, Pa., tied for fourth; and Lillian Har-mond; Mrs. Ruth McRae and E. E. Eason and George Hermann, both of Baltimore, fifth.

George Berry Jr., Pittsburgh, Pa., third; William Passell, New York, and Mrs. Abrams, Baltimore, and Mrs. Chidester, Baltimore, tied for fourth; and Lillian Har-

Ignoring Outrages Against Americans

Turkish and American authorities both have some tall explaining to do in the case of two U. S. sergeants who were arrested in Turkey on suspicion of black market operations and then beaten unmercifully by their captors.

Two high-ranking U. S. officers who were permitted to see the men only after repeated insistence and then more than 20 hours after their arrest, testified that the men had been beaten to the point where one was so visibly shaken he could hardly stand.

Army Sgt. Dale McCuiston of Van Nuys, Calif., and Air Force Sgt. James King of Ruth, Miss., are still in jail more than two months after their arrest, and the two officers who testified in their behalf before a penal court on the conduct of the jailers have been relieved of their duties at the NATO base at Izmir.

Not many weeks have passed since the incident in Iceland involving an American sentry who forced trespassers on a military base to lie in a mud puddle, and the ruckus raised by his action is still fresh in memory. The incident, inexcusable as it was, was played up out of all proportion by the socialist press of Iceland. American officials were quick to punish the sentry and even went so far as to transfer the commander of the base to a stateside job.

No one is heard in Washington or Ankara bemoaning the fate of the American sergeants, or even reprimanding the Turks for their bestial treatment of American nationals. Instead, the Defense Department has ridiculously transferred two colonels who dared to uphold their responsibilities to their commands. Perhaps the situation would be less irritating if it were not the latest of a long list of mistreatments, imprisonments and murders of Americans on foreign soil which have brought forth little more than raised eyebrows by the State Department.

Prime Minister Adnan Menderes of Turkey is easily available for any rebukes or demands for explanation which might belatedly be forthcoming from Washington. He is now in the United States.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Simple Electric Light

On October 21, the 80th anniversary of the development of the first successful incandescent light bulb will take place. It is, for this generation, a slight matter. We have everything — electric lights of all sizes, shapes, dimensions and colors; we have motion pictures and television and late shows and we even take our own motion pictures. But when Thomas Edison set to work, none of these things existed in all the world.

Edison was a backward child, so backward that he was taken out of school. This is a startling fact because it is too often assumed that backward children are retarded children. Sometimes they are really the brightest in the class and are bored by stupid classmates and teachers. Thomas Edison's mother taught him herself. Nevertheless, at the age of 11, he had his own chemical laboratory and had already read such a book as Gibbon's "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" and had mastered a "Dictionary of Sciences." At 12, he was a candy butcher on a railroad and had a chemical laboratory in the baggage car and a printing press on which he ran off copies of "The Weekly Herald."

Mass education is not designed to educate the brilliant mind. It is designed to provide a general average of children with sufficient knowledge and training to get by. The genius can be lost in this kind of schooling and unless he has supplementary training and guidance, his brilliant intellect can lead him into all sorts of paths, even crime.

Edison's great career is a product of an accident, although no one can now guess what might have become of him had he not risked his life to save the station master's son from being run over by a moving freight car. Out of gratitude, the station master taught him telegraphy. It was his excitement over telegraphy and its possibilities that opened a new world for Edison. He became an inventor.

What happens today to the brilliant student? Usually, he sits and doodles. He is bored and looks out of the window. He quarrels with his teacher and his family. The world is bad.

Only when the schools recognize extraordinary intelligence and such a child is taken out of the class and is given a chance to push ahead according to his abilities, do we save a mind for usefulness. Today, in many places, Edison would become the prey of the truant officer.

Recently, Admiral Hyman Rickover, the father of the atomic submarine, made a comparison between education in the United States and in some European countries including Soviet Russia. Testifying before the House Committee on Appropriations, Admiral Rickover said:

"... when it was found that the majority of youngsters had neither a gift nor a desire for an academic secondary education we downgraded the curriculum until it met the lowest levels of competence instead of setting up different types of secondary schools for the different types of students. When the Europeans decided to make secondary education free, they did not make this mistake. They did not confuse equal educational opportunity with identical education for all in a comprehensive school. As did our educationists. As things stand, those of our youngsters who want to become professional people receive a meager general education in high school and must make up for it in college."

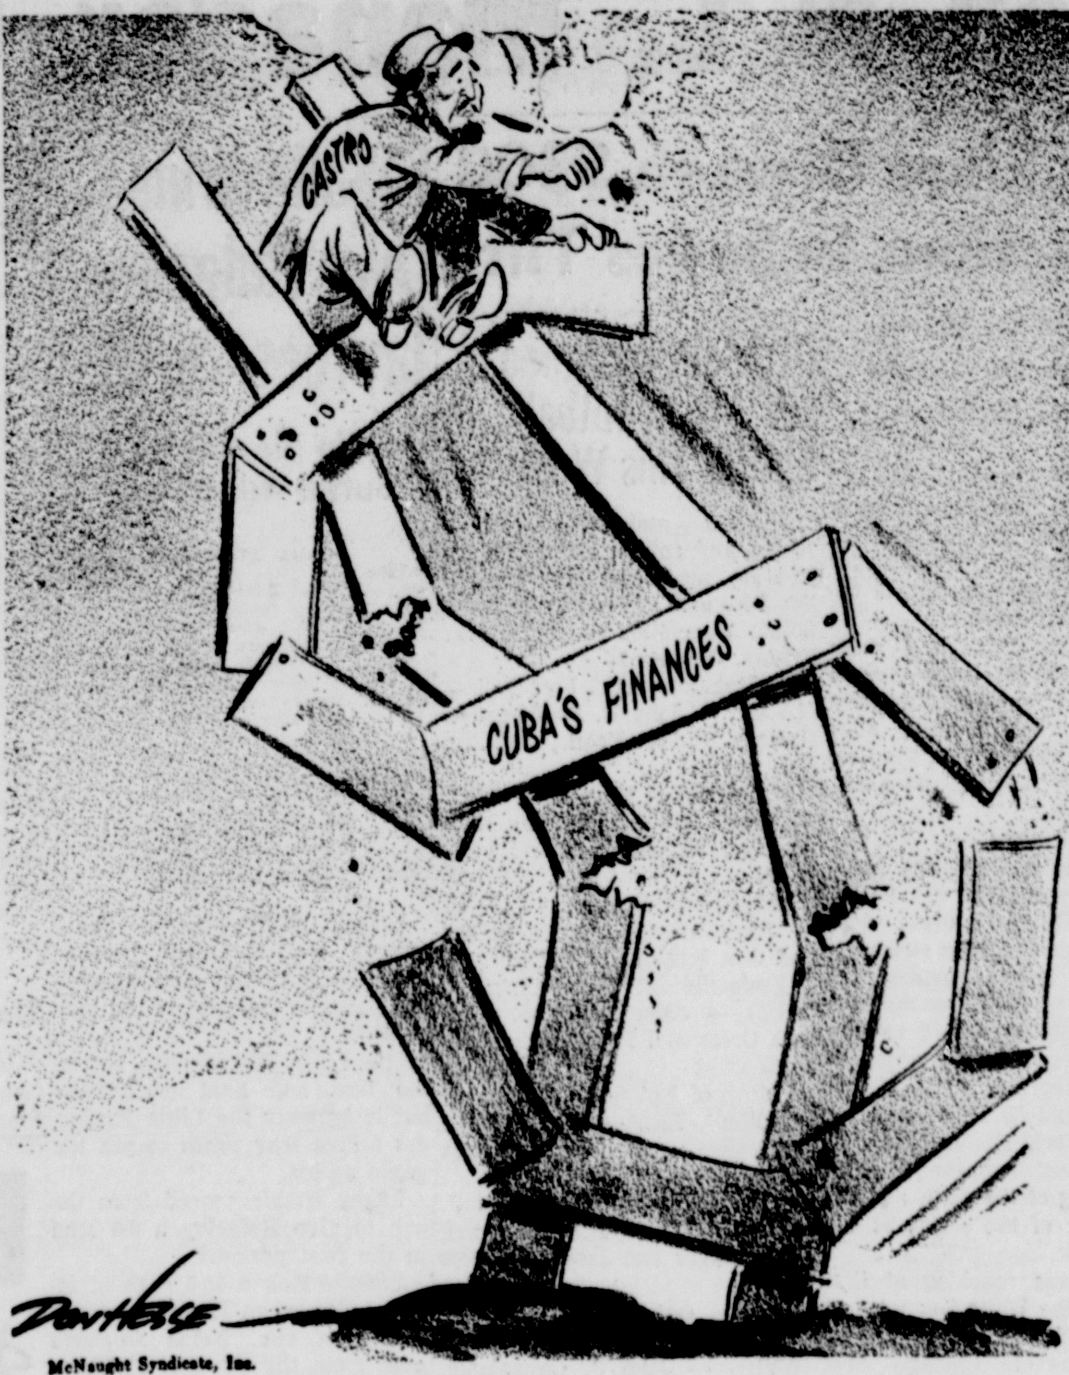

The professional requires a broad, cultural education if he is to have breadth of view and perspective. Admiral Rickover deals with this problem at some length. He said:

"... In Europe — because of their strong tax-supported secondary school system — those who begin professional training at the university at about age 18 are already broadly educated persons. Here students require about 3 years at a liberal arts college to obtain an equivalent general education. This has been brought out by many persons who know conditions here and abroad..."

Our children are being swindled and the country is being robbed of trained and skilled intelligence. It is neither wise nor necessary for the United States to copy the Russian or any other educational system, but it is also unwise to be so conceited as to be unable to learn from anyone else's experience. We probably spend more money on all forms of education in this country and we ought to get our money's worth.

Uneasy Throne

Able Calif. Governor Little Known Outside State

By Joseph Alsop

SAN FRANCISCO

As he says himself, Gov. Pat Brown of California is "a very friendly guy," amiable and not easily annoyed. But in a really long, frank talk with him, you discover that there is one thought which visibly annoys him every time it forms in his mind.

"In this country," he says bitterly, "the news moves from east to west. So nobody outside of California has ever heard of Pat Brown. And if nobody's ever heard of you, how the hell do you become a serious Presidential candidate?"

Or again, half an hour later, he declares, at once grimly and wistfully: "If I were the Democratic Governor of a big state in the East, with my victory in the last election and my record since I've been in office, I'd be a leading Democratic candidate for the Presidency this minute!"

Or again, yet another hour later, he remarks sadly: "If only I could change places with Nelson Rockefeller!"

One cannot blame the Governor for being unable to brush this particular crumb out of his mental bed. He is right. If he were the Governor of a big Eastern or mid-Western state, the more enthusiastic supporters of Sens. Kennedy and Humphrey would still not be for him. The group that will wait and hope for Adlai Stevenson until the last trumpet sounds, would still be waiting and hoping. But Brown would be a leading contender all the same. Most of the kind of people formed up behind Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri and many others besides would instead be forming up behind Gov. Brown.

His brilliant victory in 1958, his excellent administrative and legislative record at Sacramento, ought to attract widespread support. Yet they have not. But when one tries to answer the question about whether Brown can ever overcome this unjust handicap, one also has to note that Brown himself bears some of the marks of the political phenomenon he complains about.

As California politics has just begun to be intermittently watched by the nation, so too California politics are extremely inward looking and preoccupied with local issues. By the same token Brown can discourse impressively for half an hour on end on the state's complex water problem, which he is so effectively trying to solve. But ask Brown how the Democrats ought to meet what the Republicans call the peace issue, and he looks vaguely towards the ceiling and piously replies:

"We must try to convince the people that we can better consummate the good beginning that was made when Khrushchev was here." Then show him the horrifying figures of the oncoming missile gap, and inquire whether these do not also have bearing on the "peace issue." And his eyes flash in the practiced platform way, and he resoundingly declares: "America will never tolerate being second best. We should regain the lead at all costs."

The truth seems to be, in short, that the California Governor is a most astute politician and a distinctly able man who has given a lot of thought to California's problems but has few settled ideas about national problems. As a result, as he remarked, he is "just a good Governor and a friendly guy, a good average guy, who may be pretty hard to picture as President of the United States."

These are the reasons why the Brown Presidential candidacy had not got off the ground. The IKE'S HEALTH — There is some basis for believing that President Eisenhower's health was an important, though not decisive, factor in postponing his visit to Russia. The postponement was announced just 24 hours before Ike appeared before a press conference and told of his stubborn cold and need to vacation in dry, warm climate to try to lick it.

Mr. Eisenhower surprised news correspondents when he told them that his cold had persisted for weeks, ever since his trip to Western Europe. Obviously, his inability to shake it after all those weeks was of more than passing concern to his medical advisers.

There is no doubt that the principal reason for postponing the trip was to leave room in his crowded schedule for a summit meeting this autumn or winter. However, it is also apparent that his health would not permit the strenuous activity which would be involved in two such trips in quick succession.

Outlawing Of 17 Lipstick Colors Is Sure To Arouse Cosmetics Lobby

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — There'll be such a howl from the cosmetics lobby over the banning of 17 colors of lipstick that you can bet Congress will pass a law coming to the lipstick industry's rescue.

Actually, Food and Drug administrator George Larrick issued the order banning 17 red, orange, and yellow shades of lipstick because he had to, not because he wanted to.

There is little possibility of any serious toxic ingestion or cancer resulting from coal tar dyes in lipsticks. Only a small amount of dye is added in most lipstick preparations. However, the presence of any toxic ingredient — no matter how small or harmless its degree of toxicity — is barred by law from lipsticks sold to the public.

That, plus advanced technology in laboratory tests, left Larrick no recourse but to crack down.

"Our testing methods are so sensitive," one Food and Drug official explained, "that there is hardly a lipstick color on the market that wouldn't show a little toxicity. But this doesn't necessarily mean it is harmful when used externally."

So the cosmetic lobby will probably get a lipstick law passed when Congress convenes.

Money Counts In Politics

You can usually tell whether a man is running for President by the way he butters up big campaign contributors.

Out in California Gov. Pat

Brown, Democratic dark horse, is leaning heavily on right-wing Democratic James Sheppard regarding the appointment of new judges in Los Angeles. The California Legislature gave Brown the appointment of 12 new Superior Court judges and so far nine of them have been pretty well dictated by Sheppard. They include his law partner.

Interesting fact is that Sheppard once referred to Brown privately as a Communist and opposed Helen Gahagan Douglas for the Senate when Richard Nixon first got into the national spotlight by waging one of the most McCarthyesque campaigns in California history. Sheppard was with Nixon, not the Democrats.

Now, however, he's recommending judges to Gov. Pat Brown. Inside reason: Sheppard is a big money raiser for Brown and is boosting him for President.

Note — Brown also has just appointed Carmine Warschaw to his Fair Employment Practices Commission. Mrs. Warschaw is the sister of Lawrence Harvey, another big political campaign contributor to Pat Brown. Harvey Aluminum executives contributed even more to Eisenhower in 1952, but are now boosting Brown for President.

Khrushchev News Capsules
Exit Sourpuss? — Russia's dour Andrei Gromyko is reported on his way out as Foreign Minister. American diplomats hear that Khrushchev wants to get rid of Gromyko's frozen face and his reputation for saying "no" in advance of negotiations with the United States. His probable successor will be either smiling Mike Menshikov, present Ambassador to the United States, or Gromyko's deputy, Vasily Kuznetsov.

Adenauer Smiles — Chancellor Adenauer has written President Eisenhower saying he is confident the United States will never make a deal with Russia which will sacrifice West Germany's interests. Adenauer said this in a special message he sent to the White House in answer to one Eisenhower rushed to him immediately after the talks with Khrushchev. Adenauer was exceedingly suspicious after the Camp David conference ended. But he apparently has been reassured, mainly as a result of his talk with John J. McCloy, the special emissary Eisenhower sent to talk with him last week.

De Gaulle Frowns — The man who is most suspicious of Ike's talks with Khrushchev is Gen. Charles de Gaulle. De Gaulle considers Eisenhower well-meaning but naive in the tricky game of diplomacy. And even though Ike has sent him a message of reassurance, General de Gaulle is just not convinced.

Mayor Of New York

One significant and little-noticed political development obscured by the Khrushchev visit and the British elections is that there won't be a Democratic mayor of New York after 1961.

The Democratic Party has ruled New York almost without interruption for half a century. Only man to break that record was Fiorello La Guardia, a progressive Republican supported by Franklin Roosevelt.

However, Carmine De Sapio, head of Tammany Hall, took such a shellacking in a local New York election recently that his nominee is not likely to be the mayor of the nation's biggest metropolis in the near future. He can't possibly put across his candidates either for mayor or governor without the support of those who opposed him. And those who opposed him include such potent political personalities as Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, former Sen. Herbert Lehman, and former Secretary of the Air Force Tom Finletter. They united with Republicans to defeat some of De Sapio's henchmen and to scare the life out of De Sapio himself.

As a result, a fusion candidate is almost certain to be mayor of New York in 1961 — probably Congressman Seymour Halpern of Forest Hills, N. Y. — a Republican who trained under La Guardia.

Halpern, though a Republican, has chalked up a notable record for bucking Old Guard Republicans and at times even the White House. He is one of the few GOP Congressmen who have dared stand up to GOP leader Charlie Halleck in his alliance with southern Democrats.

If present trends continue, Halpern may end up as next mayor of America's biggest city.

Straw In The Wind?

By Leslie Gould

The market in the new Treasury 5 per cent bonds—the highest interest on an offering in 38 years—is saying this can be a turning point in the inflation.

The bonds are selling at a premium of a full point, with the yield to maturity 4.77 per cent. The current yield is 4.95 per cent. Secretary of the Treasury Anderson figuratively took the bear by the tail in bringing out the $2 billion 4-year 10-month issue. The government bond market has been demoralized for more than a year, with new lows being made almost daily.

The issue may bring some stability to it. Time and other events will tell that story.

In meeting the market, Secretary Anderson attracted for the first time a rush of savers. In the days just preceding the offering across the country there were long lineups at the withdrawal windows of the savings banks and other institutions with thrift accounts.

There also was a rush of "E" bond holders to cash in their bonds to switch into the new issue with its much higher interest rates. That was an unavoidable risk—for even at 3 3/4 per cent—the new rate on "E" bonds —they are unattractive and there is no inducement to buy.

The interest was the main attraction, but if these savers were afraid of further inflation—which would mean higher interest rates — there would hardly have been such a rush.

Whether this confidence that a turning point in the inflation is at hand is justified will depend on several other developments. Chief of which are what the Government does about its own spending, and what stand the Administration takes in curbing the wage-price spiral.

The present wave of strikes, including the steel tieup, are testing the stand on the wage-price spiral. If the steel companies are forced to give ground—that is, grant higher wages and fringe benefits, without any changes in work rules that permit increased productivity—the battle will be lost.

The U. S. is the last country to put its fiscal house in order. Britain, West Germany and France are ahead of the U. S. on this—all have taken drastic steps to check the inflation. The strength in their currencies are in marked contrast to the weakness in the U.S. dollar and the American loss of gold.

Secretary of the Treasury Anderson's bold action in going after savings and in meeting the market for money could be a straw in the wind. The start of a real get-tough policy as to inflation.

The bond market for the moment is taking this view.

You're Telling Me!

By William Ritt

Washington has compiled a report on the "changed look" of the typical Soviet executive. Resembles a U. S. businessman more than he does an Old Bolshevik. However, Aitch Kay points out, he pays more attention to the party office than the office party.

The typical Soviet executive even has ulcers. The shots he gets for them, though, says Aitch, have a more lasting effect.

This ulcer information, we understand, comes strictly from the inside. However, in this case it concerns the man in the Red flannel suit.

On another front, Dr. Willard Abraham, Arizona State University professor, declares that your child may be brighter than you think. Anyway, brighter than the neighbors think!

Grandpappy Jenkins says it's obvious the Arizona prof has never encountered the proud papa of a talkative two-year-old.

Sweden must be a pretty old-fashioned country, comments Zadok Dumkopf, on reading that hula hoop spinning is still the craze there.

An ex-Russian fighter pilot claims to have invented an engine-driven airplane that flies by flapping its wings. To us, that idea is strictly for the birds!

It begins to appear that baseball, like history, loves to repeat itself. Charlie Grimm has become manager of the Chicago Cubs—for the third time.

The GOP claims the Treasury surplus is a victory over the Democratic-controlled Congress. If there's anything left after a Congress gets through, it hardly matters who the victory's over.

Neither Rockefeller nor Kennedy has announced his presidential intentions. You don't have to be a chiroprapist, however, to recognize some feet.

Rockefeller paid a "non-political" visit to New Hampshire. It was a vane attempt to see how the wind is blowing.

A newly-devised tiny transistor radio can be hooked on one's ear and heard only by the wearer. Too bad, comments the master at the next desk, that the same thing can't be done with juke boxes.

Try And Stop Me

Lyricist Ira Gershwin once was importuned by a Wall Street customers' man to take a big position in an improved mining stock. "It doesn't look safe to me," demurred Gershwin. "Ira," the Wall Street man assured him earnestly, "you'll make so much money on this stock, you'll go broke!"

The fellow who used to dream up names for new Pullman cars must have switched his activities this year to chorus girls and models. Popping up in Broadway agencies recently have been such lovely creatures as Berthe Day Suit, Eye-ful Tower, Zsa Zsa Ginsberg, and Tutu Divine.

A Detroit man noticed a road sign on the island of Nantucket that read, "2 miles to Nobadeer Field." "Why is that field named Nobadeer?" he asked his driver. "The Indians named it," the driver explained. "Nobadeer is Indian for airport."

Walter Alston Is Named N.L. Manager Of The Year

Dodger Pilot Chosen By 16 Of 24 Scribes

Led Seventh Place 1958 Club To Flag, World Series Title

By FRED DOWN United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI)—Walt Alston, the quiet man who led the Los Angeles Dodgers to their storybook pennant and world championship victories, was named National League manager of the year Monday by the United Press International.

The 47-year-old native of Darrtown, Ohio, was selected for the honor by 16 of the 24 writers, three representing each team in the circuit, who form the UPI's board of baseball experts. Bill Rigney of the San Francisco Giants received six votes and Fred Haney of the Milwaukee Braves and Danny Murtaugh of the Pittsburgh Pirates received one each.

Alston's selection capped a season during which he took a Dodgers team that finished seventh in 1958 and led them to the greatest rags-to-riches comeback in baseball history. No previous National League team ever rose from seventh to first place in one year and no previous big league team ever rose from seventh to a world championship in one year.

Had Playoff Victory

To reach his goal, Alston had to lead the Dodgers to an upset victory over the Braves in the third post-season playoff in NL history and then to another upset triumph over the American League champion Chicago White Sox, who started the World Series as 11-10 favorites.

A 6-foot, 2-inch, 210-pounder who struck out in his only major league appearance at the plate, Alston thus has managed the Dodgers to their only two world championships. Alston also piloted the Dodgers in 1955 when they gave Brooklyn its only world title.

No "genius type," Alston has

Beeman, Lee Hounds Win

Score In Junior ABC Field Trial

Beeman's Cindy, handled by Zella Beeman of Frostburg, won in the 13 inch class in which there were nine entries, and Lee's Big Myrt, handled by Stephen Lee, was judged the best of five 15 inch hounds in the field trial for junior members of the Allegheny Beagle Club on Sunday at the Barton Dairy Farm, Pinto.

Trophies will be presented the handlers of the winning hounds in each class at the Allegheny Beagle Club's annual dinner next spring.

Judges were James Hinkle, Cumberland, and Fred Kreiger, Cresaptown.

The Results:

13 INCH CLASS (5 ENTRIES)
1. Beeman's Cindy, Zella Beeman, Frostburg.
2. Lee's Little Sue, Ronald Flick, Cresaptown.
3. Beeman's Trisla, Larry Harden, Frostburg.
4. Maggie Lee, III, John Urban, Jr., Meyersdale, Pa.
Next Best Qualified — Winter's Daisy, Frank Winner, Cresaptown.

15 INCH CLASS (5 ENTRIES)
1. Lee's Big Myrt, Stephen Lee, Cresaptown.
2. Burk's Molly, Larry Harden, Frostburg.
3. Via's Lady, Fred Kreiger Jr., Cresaptown.
4. Opusquin Sport, Kenneth Justice, Cumberland.
Next Best Qualified — Chiefly Buddy, Patrick Flynn, Cumberland.

always insisted that a "manager is no better than his tools" but to many it appeared this year that he disproved his own theory.

Only a year ago, the Dodgers limped home a sorry seventh in their first season at Los Angeles and Alston's job seemed in jeopardy. The fiasco of the "ludicrous screen" at the Los Angeles Coliseum and then the poor showing of the team on the field appeared to presage a general house-cleaning—one, it was hinted, that would include Alston and pave the way for a "Hollywood type" to manage the Dodgers.

Wrote It Off
Clubowner Walter O'Malley and General Manager Buzzy Bavasi decided to write off 1958 as one of those years, however, and they turned out to be right when the Dodgers bounced back this year as a pennant contender.

Alston's key contributions to the Dodgers' success were his ability to mix veterans like Gil Hodges, Duke Snider, Carl Furillo and Wally Moon with newcomers like Larry Sherry, Maury Wills, Ron Fairly and Norm Larker to produce a winning combination.
Born, Dec. 1, 1911 at Butler County, Ohio, Alston was a minor league infielder from 1935 to 1947. He began to manage in the minors in 1940 and won an American Association pennant with St. Paul in 1949 and International League pennants with Montreal in 1951 and 1952. He was made manager of the Dodgers in 1954 and has piloted them to three pennants, one second and one third place finish and one seventh-place flop.

In 1932, Jimmy Foxx hit 58 home runs for the Philadelphia Athletics.

Valley Hosts Beall Today

Flintstone Will Play Bruce High

Beall High School and Valley High School, the only undefeated teams in the W.M.I. Soccer League, will clash today at Valley High Field.

Undefeated in 48 consecutive games, Valley is now leading the county race with a 3-0 record while Beall occupies the runner-up spot with one victory and one tie game.

Clifton Van Roby and Bill Sales, who will officiate.

At Westernport, Bruce High School's Bulldogs will play host to the Flintstone High School, George Shaffer and "Moose" Arnone will be the officials.

Bruce owns a 1-1 record while Flintstone has lost two games.

Syracuse Leads Balloting For Lambert Trophy

NEW YORK (UPI)—Syracuse and Penn State remained 1-2 on Monday in the weekly balloting for the Lambert Trophy, emblematic of the major college football championship of the East.

Syracuse, a 32-6 victory over Navy last Saturday, received 9.7 of a possible 10 points in the latest balloting by the eight-man selection Board of Coaches, sports writers and sportscasters. Penn State, which scored a 17-11 victory over Army Saturday, was second with 9.3 points.

Pittsburgh was third with 7.7 points, Army was fourth with 6.3 and Navy was fifth with 5.2. Holy Cross, 4-6; Pennsylvania, 4-0; Rutgers, 3-2; Yale, 2-2, and Boston College, 1-6, completed the first 10. Cornell, Boston University and Princeton were the other teams which received votes this week.

Chancellors Gain On K. Of C. Leaders

The Chancellors moved within a game of first place in the Knights of Columbus Duckpin League last night by winning two out of three games from the Records on the Club Recreation Alleys.

A roll-off was necessary to decide the third game after the teams had tied.

In the other match the Guards scored a 2-1 decision over the front-running Grand Knights.

Bill Kegg of the Chancellors was the top scorer with 197-525. Bert Lawler paced the Records with a 233-522. Norman Sell led the Guards with 181-506 and Jack Loibel Jr., of the Grand Knights posted 176-488. The standings:

Grand Knights 11 4 733
Chancellors 10 5 661
Guards 5 10 333

Ransom Jackson To Quit Baseball

ATHENS, Ga. (AP)—Ransom Jackson, third baseman for the Chicago Cubs, announced Monday he is retiring from baseball.

Jackson told John Holland, Cub vice president, of his decision several weeks ago but withheld public announcement until he returned to his home here. He told Holland that in view of the fact that he is 33 years old and has not been playing much recently, he thought it is time to look for something with security.

Jackson twice was named to the National League all-star team (1954-55). In 1955, he led the circuit in double plays for third basemen, starting 26. His lifetime batting average was .260.

Frick Fines Dessen $300 For Actions In Series Tilt

Accused Of Using Profane Language And "Showboating"

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick Monday slapped a $300 fine on Charley Dessen, Los Angeles coach, for acting up in the final World Series game last week.

The commissioner said Dessen must pay $200 for using profane language and threatening gestures and $100 for "showboating" after he had been thumbed off the field by Ed Hurley, the first base umpire.

Fined Second Time

This is the second time Dessen has been fined for his actions in a World Series. He drew a $100 penalty for protesting a strike decision when he was manager of the Dodgers at Brooklyn in 1953. The commissioner said he had sent the news to the fiery Dodger coach by telegram, advising that the sum would be deducted from Dessen's World Series check.

The incident happened in the fourth inning of the sixth and decisive game of the series at Comiskey Park.

Dessen was coaching at first base while the White Sox were at bat in the fourth and just after Ted Kluszewski, Chicago first baseman, had hit a three-run homer.

Hurley Thumbs Dessen

Dessen began exchanging words with Hurley, an American League umpire. After a while, Hurley thumbed Dessen off the field.

Later it was reported that Dessen was ejected for yelling at plate umpire Frank Dascoli while Earl Torgeson was at bat for the Milwaukee Braves.

The A's said they believed Trowbridge was a strong fastballer with a good curve who has never had the opportunity to show his stuff.

Trowbridge, from Hudson, N.Y., had a 12-10 record in two full and two half seasons with the Braves. He was with the Braves old Wichita, Kan., farm club in the American Association in parts of 1956 and 1957.

Trowbridge had a 1-0 record last season while working in only 30 innings.

The most sweeping fine was the $50 each assessed against each of the 22 members of the Milwaukee Braves—also last year—for prematurely disclosing how they were splitting up their World Series swag.

Hawthorne Ends Double Quintet

CHICAGO, Oct. 12 (AP)—Hawthorne officials today announced the end of the daily double quintet "because there weren't enough machines" to handle the pool properly.

Holders of five tickets today collected $4,134 each by picking four winners in the five races. The pool operated in the same manner as the daily double at most race tracks. The quintet, however, involved five races instead of two.

Harwell Is Named Detroit Announcer

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers announced Monday that George Kell and Ernie Harwell will be co-announcers on broadcasts and telecasts of Tiger baseball games in 1960. Harwell comes from Baltimore.

Kell, a former major league star, and Harwell got three-year contracts.

Harwell, a former Brooklyn Dodger sportscaster, has handled Baltimore Oriole announcing for five years and is a veteran of 11 years in radio and television.

Hemmis Cops Canadiana Hill Climbing Championship

U.S. Cycling Champ Wins At Kitchener

Jacobs Is Second In Ontario Event On Thanksgiving

KITCHENER, Ont. (AP) — Joseph W. Hemmis, of Cumberland, Md., Monday won the Canadian National Motorcycle Climbing championship at Heidelberg, six miles west of here.

The Marylander, who won the U.S. professional hill climbing title at Muskegon, Mich., in August, today climbed the 200-foot course up Mount Kuhn in 4.19 seconds, 21 seconds off the record.

Charles Jacobs, Bangor, Pa., was second with a time of 4.26 seconds. Third place went to Wilford Bryan, Columbus, Ohio, whose time was 5.41 while Earl Buck, of Detroit, was fourth in 5.85.

Kenny Hatton, Canadian ace, was forced out of action as a result of motor trouble.

Nine contestants, including three Canadians participated in today's event which was a feature of Canada's Thanksgiving Day program. The climb attracted 3,000 persons and was held during an afternoon that saw the temperature dip to almost 40 degrees.

JOSEPH W. HEMMIS

Hemmis' victory yesterday at Kitchener was his third in two days and extended his win streak to 17 contests.

On Sunday, afternoon in Dayton, Ohio, he won both professional events. His time for the first was 12.57 seconds and he was followed by Bryan (13.23), Jacobs (14.77) and Larry Frantz, Cleveland (14.32). The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company clerk took the second event in 12.36 seconds. Duane Nealand, Bedford, Ohio, was second in 12.83, Bryan, third, 13.14 and Jacobs, fourth, 13.26 seconds.

Last weekend Hemmis captured the two professional events in which he participated at York, Pa.

In 41 outings this year Hemmis has finished "out of the money" only once. He has won 36 times and finished second on four occasions.

Tempted Wins At Aqueduct

60,070 See Race On Columbus Day

NEW YORK (UPI) — Tempted smashed an American record that had been on the books for 51 years in winning the $57,200 Ladies handicap at Aqueduct on Monday before a holiday crowd of 60,070.

The five-year-old filly was clocked in 2:09 flat for the mile and five-sixteenths event. The old American record of 2:09 3-5 was set by Ballot at the old Sheepshead Bay Track in Brooklyn in 1908. There is no record listed for a mile and five-sixteenths because it is considered an odd distance for a race.

Tempted, who won the Beldame Handicap in her last start, was the odds-on choice of the crowd—sixth largest in New York racing history. She charged home almost three lengths ahead of High Bid under a front-running ride by Eldon Nelson. Big Effort outgamed Polamby for third place.

The victory was Tempted's ninth in 13 starts this year. She paid $3.70 for $2 and earned a purse of $37,180, raising her 1959 earnings to $184,792.

Buddy Parker Fires Bishop

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Coach Buddy Parker, irked over the Pittsburgh Steelers' 28-24 loss to the Philadelphia Eagles, Monday fired defensive back Don Bishop.

Parker blamed Bishop personally for the loss. He said Bishop was not on the field when rookie end Art Powell returned a punt 58 yards for a touchdown that put the Eagles out in front in the second quarter.

He said Bishop was on the sidelines getting a shoe taped leaving the kicking team with only 10 players on the field.

Ann Landers . . . Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN: In April our 16-year-old daughter eloped with a boy who was also within two months of graduation. They had been going steady 18 months. We got together with the boy's parents and had the marriage annulled. There was a tacit agreement that if they felt the problem was about each other in four years we would agree to a big church wedding.

Last month our daughter discovered she is pregnant. The boy and his family, now bent on a college education, have turned their backs on us and want no more talk of marriage.

Can we have the annulment annulled? Does the fact that they were married at the time of conception give us any legal rights? Can we force this boy to contribute to the baby's support? We are comfortable, but we're not made of money.

DEAR ANN: You need a lawyer. I am not one.

More important than legal rights, however, is the well being of your daughter. If the boy, after being told what a spot this girl is in, has turned his back on her and wants no talk of marriage, he would make a lemon of a husband and father.

In my opinion, she's better off to face this ordeal alone rather than be shackled to a resentful and bitter punk who would only add to her problems.

DEAR ANN: Last night I had a big fight with my husband. My husband said if his father ever got too sick to work, he would sell everything we own to keep the house and car payments up for his dad.

I said if he sold so much as one stick of furniture I would take the baby and move out. He said it proved I didn't love him or I would stay by his side through thick or thin.

I came from a family where there was no love or affection.

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN: My mother and I can't agree and we need a middle-person. She thinks that $8 a week is enough for a 12-year-old. That is supposed to cover bus fare, lunches, spending money, movies and records. Also out of this I have to buy my friends birthday gifts and Bar Mitzvah presents.

Do you think this is fair? I don't. Thank you for being on my side.

NO NATIONAL BANK.

Dear No Bank: You're going to hate me but I think $8 is plenty for a 12 year old girl to collect every week for just breathing, which is what most kids do these days for an allowance.

To learn the difference between a marriage that "settles down" and one that "gets dull," send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "What To Expect From Marriage," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

(Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Oldest W. Va. Nurse Dies In Charleston

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Funeral services will be held Wednesday for Mrs. Margaret F. Warwick, 83, believed to be the oldest registered nurse in West Virginia.

A graduate of the school of nursing at Massachusetts hospital in 1899, Mrs. Warwick died in a hospital here Monday.

She was a former staff member of Thomas Memorial Hospital in South Charleston and a former superintendent of nurses at Marmet Hospital.

Rockefeller To Speak At Forestry Meet

"The New Alaska" To Be Featured

Laurance S. Rockefeller, chairman of the Outdoor Recreation Resources Review Commission, will give an address today during the 84th annual meeting of the American Forestry Association which opened Sunday at Bedford Springs, Pa. He is a brother of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York.

The commission headed by Mr. Rockefeller is the group recently named by the President and Congress to study mounting recreational pressures in America.

The committee will submit a report to Congress on how to cope with these pressures. Another feature will be the world premier of "The New Alaska" a U. S. Department of Agriculture film about the resources and opportunities of this new state.

A third attraction of the meeting will be the initial presentation by the Forest Service of a new film built around the Trail Riders of the Wilderness program carried on by the American Forestry Association.

Footage to be shown was made by Clint Davis, I and E Chief of the Forest Service on this summer's Wind River Ride in Wyoming.

In view of mounting fire losses in the state of Alaska, the AFA has drafted Jesse M. Honeywell, area administrator of the Bureau of Land Management at Juneau, to report on ways and means of checking this menace.

From May 1, 1959 to July 20, 1959, over 500,000 acres were burned in 307 fires costing several million dollars. AFA in recent months has presented its own Fire Plan for Alaska to Congress and is calling for an end to such extravagant waste of resources.

Dr. Eric A. Walker, president of Pennsylvania State University, told 600 delegates attending the convention at Bedford yesterday that "we must raise our sights to the end that the forester of the future will be a top grade scientist and skilled in human engineering and land management."

Dr. Walker predicted his statement on the belief that in the event the cold war eases then the huge amounts of money spent on armament could be transferred into building up our natural resources.

He pointed to the expansion in forestry by pulp and paper companies and the lumbering industries as calling for hundreds of skilled foresters. "We should envisage a forester who has taken a seven-year course in a school of forestry and who would be equipped on a plane much higher than the foresters of recent years."

Besides the usual training in forestry and related work, these graduates of the extended courses would be top grade scientists (Continued on Page 14)

ABL Offers Aerodynamics Course Oct. 27

A course on supersonic aerodynamics will be offered at Allegheny Ballistics Laboratory beginning October 27.

It will cover elementary and advanced topics in the field of gas dynamics and be similar in makeup to an extension school, three-credit hour, 16-week program.

No credit will be offered this time however owing to calendar conflicts with the sponsoring university. Classes will run the standard two and a half hours duration.

Dr. Bohdan T. Hnatuk of the Department of Aeronautical Engineering of West Virginia University will be the instructor. He has a background of many years of experience in this field both in Europe and the United States.

Besides teaching abroad and here at Notre Dame and West Virginia, he has served in the capacity of consultant for Bendix Aviation and other Navy facilities.

A background in differential and integral calculus and undergraduate thermodynamics is advisable for those interested in enrolling.

The cost of the course will be borne by the individuals attending.

County Sheep Raisers Oppose National Trend

Nation-wide figures on the referendum on continuing deductions from wool payments, held last month, has resulted in a favorable vote, although Allegheny County sheep raisers did not come up with a favorable vote.

Miss Elizabeth Hoover, manager of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation office here, said yesterday that eight of the 26 eligible voters in the county were not in favor of the deductions while three farmers were in favor.

Producers owning 16.75 million head of sheep in the nation voted for the deduction while producers owning 3.9 million head voted against.

This resulted in an 81 per cent

American Forestry Association Honors Them

These four men and one woman were presented distinguished service awards yesterday by the American Forestry Association at its 84th annual convention at the Bedford Springs Hotel in nearby Pennsylvania. Pictured, left to right, are William H. Carr, Tucson, Ariz., honored for his efforts in the field of public information; Newton Bishop Drury, Berkeley, Calif., in the field of public service; William Douglas Pine, Eureka, Calif., in the field of education; Mrs. Marion T. Weatherford, Arlington, Ore., in the field of general service, and Judge Harley Langdale, Valdosta, Ga., in the field of business and industry. The association has given these awards annually since 1949. They are designed both to give recognition to conservation leaders and to stimulate greater interest in conservation programs on the part of all citizens.

Fall Events Planned By Area Eagles

Delegates To Attend Member Conference

Officials of Cumberland Aerie No. 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will attend the annual membership conference of the Maryland and District of Columbia State Aerie in Frederick October 18.

The conference will open at 1:30 p. m. at the home of Frederick Aerie No. 1067.

Representing the Cumberland lodge will be Fred S. Palmer, president; Herman L. Myers, secretary; Lynn E. Tharp, membership chairman, and Louis T. Johnson, membership security committee chairman.

Officers of the state aerie are making plans to participate in a meeting planned November 22 by Baltimore Lodge No. 59.

Attending from Cumberland will be Thomas J. Hopwood, state chaplain; Mr. Johnson, state district vice chairman, and Mr. Myers, state secretary, and their wives.

The Cumberland aerie is making plans for the annual visit of Grand Worthy President J. Philip Bigley, of Virroqua, Wis.

He will be honored at a meeting planned November 12 at 8 p. m. at the home of Cumberland Aerie.

Mr. Myers will be the chief speaker at the 55th anniversary and class initiation to be held by Alpha Aerie No. 871 in Alexandria, Va., October 21, and will speak at a class initiation planned by Morgantown Aerie No. 2364 on November 1.

The Alexandria celebration will mark the initiation of Rep. Joel T. Broynhill, of Virginia's 10th district, into the Eagles.

The 1960 convention, according to state trustees, will be held June 17-19 in Hagerstown.

ABL Union Meetings Slated October 21

Maryland Land Week Program Planned Tonight

In observance of Maryland Land Week, The Allegheny Soil Conservation District Supervisors will sponsor a cooperators meeting this evening at 8 o'clock in the LaVale fire hall.

Martin Gordon, work unit conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service office here, said yesterday that Solomon Hoke, chairman of the Carroll County District Cooperators, will speak on "The Job of the District Soil Conservation Supervisor," and the importance of Soil Conservation work.

Following his talk, Mr. Hoke will show color slides of the Goodyear farm in Arizona. He took the slides when Carroll County was winner in the National Goodyear Soil Conservation contest.

Mr. Hoke is an active farmer in his county and is well-known through the state of Maryland. Mr. Gordon said six girls who are members of the Flintstone 4-H Club will present a program of entertainment.

He said there are about 600 cooperators in the county. All the members are being urged to attend. Guests are welcome. Refreshments will be provided by the local district, he said.

One of the main purposes of Maryland Land Week is to encourage soil and water conservation in the state. In addition it is the aim of the SCS to publicize soil conservation work with local people on the farm and in the city.

Chairman of the Allegheny Soil Conservation District is Floyd Buser.

House Trailer Gutted By Fire

Fire destroyed a house trailer at the Habeeb greenhouse on Baltimore Pike yesterday afternoon, according to the Baltimore Pike Volunteer Fire Company.

Firemen said they were called about 1 p. m. after flames were seen coming from the roof of the trailer.

They said the trailer and its contents, owned by an employee of the florist, were destroyed, and that the only thing saved were some valuable papers and a box of shotgun shells.

Seven members of the department turned out and fought the blaze with water from the fire truck's booster tank. Nobody was injured in the blaze.

Mineral Countian's Plea Is Rebuffed

A petition by James T. Rexrode, an inmate of the West Virginia Penitentiary sentenced from Mineral County, was one of three seeking writs of habeas corpus which were denied yesterday by the West Virginia Supreme Court in Charleston.

Rexrode was sentenced to one-to-10 years in 1957 on a larceny charge. He contended that he was unlawfully arrested in Virginia and returned to West Virginia to face prosecution.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Laubhan, Denver, Colo., announce the birth of a daughter yesterday in Presbyterian Hospital there. The mother is the former Miss Nancy Ackerman, 436 North Centre Street, and the late Clarence Ackerman.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Wallace Beaulieu, Baltimore, announce the birth of a daughter there October 9. The father is a former resident of here.

Memorial Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Anderson, 302 Pennsylvania Avenue, a daughter yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Nave, RFD 5, city, a daughter yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Stallings, 208 Beall Street, a son yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony L. Lepore, 1239 Braddock Road, a daughter Sunday.

New Lights To Speed Traffic

The new traffic light system which will be installed on Baltimore Street will allow more cars to move on each light change, according to Police Commissioner Philmore Fleming.

He said "go" cycles will be a little longer to expedite downtown traffic flow.

A 2½ second amber caution light is being provided as a warning of impending traffic changes.

All lights will show red for foot traffic, he said, and neon signals will show "Walk" during the pedestrian cycle. They will flash "Don't" at other times.

He said a plan to use arrows at the intersection of Baltimore and North Centre Street has been dropped as impractical.

Utilities To Aid In Traffic Plan

Officials of two utility firms assured city officials yesterday they will try to keep downtown work to a minimum during rush hours.

Promises of continued cooperation were given by officials of the Potomac Edison Company and the C. & P. Telephone Company at a post-Council conference yesterday.

The meeting was requested by Police Commissioner Philmore Fleming, who asked the firms to try to work out a plan to keep heavy repair trucks off the downtown area, when possible, from 2:30 to 5:30 p. m.

Brother Of Local Man Is Composer

John Duke, brother of a local man, is one of two professors of music at Smith College, Northampton, Mass., who has written compositions for a concert to be given at the college in connection with the inauguration of the school's president this week.

Mr. Duke, who is the brother of Henry K. Duke, has composed several sonnets for voice and piano and is well known in this country and abroad for art-songs set to English texts. He also is the composer of several one-act chamber operas.

Police Arrest Man In Theft Of Wallet, $65

City police arrested a 26-year-old Cumberland man and are holding him in the City Jail pending further investigation of the theft of a woman's pocket-book containing $65.

Officers said the woman reported her wallet containing the money was missing from her house and gave police the name of the suspect.

Police also are checking the report that someone broke into the home of C. J. Ruppert, 302 Wills Creek Avenue. Mr. Ruppert works in Washington, police said, and his brother keeps a check on the house.

The brother discovered a pane of glass broken from a kitchen window and reported it to authorities. A check of the house so far has revealed nothing missing, police said.

Another breaking and entering was reported Saturday to City Police.

The Hirsch Brothers warehouse, Cumberland Street, was broken into and a truck parked in the building was moved.

Entry apparently was gained by breaking the glass to the front door of the warehouse office. The door was then unlocked.

Police said whoever opened the door apparently took keys to the vehicle from a desk drawer. The truck was found parked several feet from its original position, police stated.

Lonaconing Man Begins Sentence

George Donald Jr., 38, of Lonaconing, who was handed a six month sentence in the Maryland House of Correction during an appeal trial in Allegheny County Circuit Court on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of minor boys, begins serving the sentence this week.

Only July 9 he was taken before Louis Fatkin, juvenile court magistrate, found guilty and sentenced to two years in the institution.

Donald filed an appeal and was taken before Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris, who imposed the six month sentence on September 29. He began serving the term yesterday.

Three Patrolmen Receive Oath

Three new men were sworn in to the Cumberland Police Department yesterday by Police Commissioner Philmore Fleming.

They are Glen Voils, John Harden and Jon Bitner, who were named to fill vacancies in the department.

Cancer Study Is Under Way In County

1,500 Families To Be Contacted

The Allegheny County Chapter of the American Cancer Society will begin full-scale work this week on the six-year cancer study which is being conducted in five other Maryland counties and Baltimore city.

Most of the volunteer workers throughout the county received their questionnaire kits last week and have already started contacting the 1,500 families in this county who will take part in the study.

During the next six years, one million adult Americans will be questioned about their personal habits and history to find out why some persons may be more likely to get cancer than others.

The Cancer Society hopes to obtain as much information as possible on the environment, habits, and family histories of 50,000 persons in Maryland and 42,500 in Baltimore city.

These people will be traced for a number of years to determine which of them develops cancer. Through the questionnaires it is hoped to determine if there is a connection between occupation and susceptibility and cancer and if there is any link between cancer and other diseases.

The questionnaires which will be distributed by the volunteer workers in Allegheny County are strictly confidential.

The envelopes which are provided to those to take part in the survey are not opened until they reach national research headquarters. Each family is assigned an identifying number for the survey, but at no time will volunteers or anyone in Allegheny County have access to the information contained in the 1,500 questionnaires filled in by area residents.

Heart Group Organizes New Committees

The board of directors of Allegheny-Garrett County Heart Association met at the office of the association last night and several committee chairmen were appointed.

George R. Hughes Jr., vice president, presided in the absence of James W. Bishop, who has been ill.

The group discussed plans for the annual fund raising campaign which will be held in February and also discussed the attendance of several members at the American Heart Association annual meeting in Philadelphia next week as well as the state heart association meeting in Baltimore next month.

The directors decided to combine two functional committees, the professional committee and the Rheumatic Fever Control committee, with Dr. W. A. Van Ormer as chairman.

John E. Geare was appointed chairman of the finance committee. F. Allan Weatherholt was appointed chairman of the public education and schools committee. Harold E. Naughton was named chairman of the committee on constitution and by-laws. Ernest B. Treat was appointed membership chairman.

The next quarterly meeting of the board will be held in December with executive meetings held each month.

Local Kiwanis Club To Hear Comptroller

State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein will be the guest speaker at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club Thursday at 12:15 p. m. at Central YMCA.

Mr. Goldstein, who is former president of the Maryland Senate, will discuss the state's fiscal affairs.

City Defers Action On Amendment

To Be Considered By Full Council

The Mayor and Council yesterday tabled for 30 days a proposed charter amendment resolution which would govern working hours and wage rates on contracts awarded by the City of Cumberland.

The "compromise" proposal was given its first reading on October 5 after city officials defeated Charter Resolution No. 11, which was vigorously opposed by area labor unions and contractors.

The defeated resolution, a city spokesman said, would have removed rules and regulations which prevented free bargaining between contractors and unions on wages.

Under the compromise resolution, contractors must pay the existing or prevailing wage rate of the Mayor and Council on any contract of over $1,000, unless the contract is subject to federal or state aid, when the area prevailing wage would be paid.

City Hall sources said officials want the plan considered when all members of the Mayor and Council are present.

Three South Waverly Terrace residents asked the City to clean up the area to improve the scenic view. The request was referred to City Engineer C. R. Nuzum, who was asked to determine if the offending area is city property and act accordingly.

City Auditor Arthur B. Gibson was authorized to issue a $100 check to the City Board of Health to aid in a co-operative fight with the county and businessmen toward the extermination of pigeons on city-owned property.

Also authorized was a $200 check to the Queen City Brewing Company in settlement of all claims arising from the flood control work.

Scattered Frost May Hit Section

Scattered frost was predicted in this area early this morning as temperatures were expected to drop in the 30s in the mountain sections.

The Weather Bureau's forecast for today calls for considerable sunshine but continued cool throughout this section. The high today is expected to be between 55 and 64 degrees.

A pressure area moved into the section late Sunday night, dropping the mercury to 35 degrees at Oakland, and an unofficial low of 48 degrees in Cumberland.

The unofficial high downtown yesterday was a brisk 67 degrees a pleasant change from the unseasonably warm weather which this section has been experiencing this fall.

Many shoppers downtown last night were noted wearing coats and heavy sweaters as the mercury dropped sharply after the sun went down yesterday evening. The reading at the Times-News Building last night at 10 p. m. was 54 degrees.

Tax Collections Remain Steady

A steady flow of customers was reported yesterday as the City Tax Office took in some $50,000 of 1959 taxes.

Officials anticipate that payments will be heavy this week as the deadline for interest-free payments approaches.

Mrs. Lucile Roeder, finance commissioner, reminded that Monday, October 19, will be the last day that taxes may be paid at par. Mailed payments postmarked at midnight will also be accepted without interest.

Mrs. Roeder also pointed out that those who cannot pay the full amount before the deadline may save money by making partial payments.

Scout Council Makes Plans For Next Year

50th Anniversary To Be Observed

Potomac Council, Boy Scouts, already is making plans for its program in 1960, which marks 50 years of scouting in America.

The 50th anniversary Achievement Program has been developed for individual cubs, scouts and explorers to complete in order to wear the permanent achievement program patch.

Qualifications for this award deal with recruiting new youths, advancement in rank, personal fitness and service to others. A special unit award, the President Eisenhower Award, will be presented to a unit when 50 per cent of its members have earned the individual award.

Leaders To Get Data

Unit leaders also will receive information and materials for participation in the commemorative tribute which will be erected in Washington, D. C. next year.

A jubilee camporee will be held at Camp Potomac July 23-24 while the National Jamboree is in session at Colorado Springs, Colo.

This camporee will replace the annual council camporee formerly held in May. A special patch will be made available to participants of the camporee.

Another special event planned next year is an Explorer Scout Jubilee Field Day which will be conducted at Camp Potomac on July 23.

Vote Campaign

Scouts of Potomac Council also will take part in the get-out-the-vote campaign for the national election which will be held next year.

Other events which will mark next year's activities will be Boy Scout Week, February 7-13, the Explorer Sweetheart Ball on April 1 at Bruce High School and Webelos Cub Day at Camp Potomac on May 7.

The six weeks of summer camp for the council will be held from June 11 until July 30.

Many additional activities such as camporees, expositions, pine-wood derbies, swim and first aid meets will be planned and conducted throughout the year in the three districts of the council.

Teachers Meet On Friday

Allegheny County will be represented at the meeting of the Department of Elementary School Teachers on Friday, October 16, at the Drill Hall of the Fifth Regiment Armory in Baltimore beginning at 2 p. m.

"Trends in Elementary Education" will be the topic of a panel discussion at the meeting, which is part of the program of the State Teachers' Association Convention.

B. Melvin Cole, director of elementary education, Baltimore County public schools, will moderate the panel.

Panel members will be Mrs. Grace Alder Dorsey, supervisor of elementary education, State Department of Education, whose topic will be "Today's Emphasis in the Field of Academic Learning;" Violet Davis, supervisor of Elementary Education in Harford County, "Current Thinking Concerning the Use of Specialists in Elementary Education;" Lester Welch, director of sites and planning, Montgomery County, "The Effect on Children of Lagging School Construction."

Ethel M. Thompson, from the office of the assistant executive secretary for educational services, National Education Association, will summarize the panel discussions.

A business meeting for the election of officers will precede the panel presentation.

Jewish Welfare Fund Meets This Evening

The Jewish Welfare Fund of Western Maryland will hold its annual membership meeting this evening at 8 o'clock in the vestry of B'er Chayim Temple.

A new Board of Directors will be elected and new officers for the year will be chosen. The meeting scheduled last week was postponed until this evening.

To Reorganize Troop

A meeting will be held tomorrow at 7 p. m. at Wiley Ford School for the purpose of reorganizing the Boy Scout troop at the school, according to Frank Winterstein, scoutmaster.

Work Completed On Church

Work has been completed by the congregation of Trinity United Pentecostal Church, Inc. on its new building on Eastern Avenue. Rev. Paul W. Swick, pastor and general overseer, said construction on the church was started over a year ago and the congregation of 35 members expect to be using the structure in the next several weeks.

Rev. Swick, who has done missionary work in the Hawaiian Islands, said the church has been using a mission on Central Avenue for the past several years.
